FRANCE MERELY FEELING U. S. OUT ON WAR DEBTS

No Official, Definite Proposals Made.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 4.—(Special.)—France has made no definite proposal of a settlement of her $4,000,000,000 war debt to the United States and is merely putting out feelers to discover what sort of offer would be acceptable to the American government.

From an authoritative French source comes this information, as well as the explanation that the feelers are being put forth in conversations of an official but informal character proceeding between Finance Minister Clemenceau and Secretary of the Treasury Mellon, these long range conversations being carried on through the medium of American Ambassador Herrick in Paris and the state department. Clemenceau's memorandum arrived to night and has been decoded, but state department officials, pending official consideration of the text, have no comment to make on it tonight, nor would they make it public in full or in part.

The French government realizes that American officialdom and the nation generally have been aroused over the failure of France to make a definite offer looking to settlement of the debt question, it is explained, and therefore it does not desire to present any fixed and concrete proposal until it feels such proposal when made public might make a favorable impression.

On this account it is not believed any details of the present French informal suggestions will be made public at least through authorized sources. The same reliable sources hold that nothing of an official character in regard to the nature of the French terms of settlement will be made known until the discussion has entered the next stage, which will be at the conclusion of the present official but informal conversations now being conducted by cable between the French and American treasury heads.

Settlement a Long Way Ahead.

France will be willing, after it is prepared to submit a definite proposal which may be acceptable on all sides, to have the terms thereof made known; but it is pointed out that to do so at the present time probably would result in a situation which might embarrass if not actually endanger the success of the whole proceedings.

Therefore well advised observers here do not look for anything more than speculation in regard to the terms which France will offer until after the debt funding commission has met and given careful consideration to the report which Secretary Mellon will make as chairman of the commission as a result of his conversations with M. Clemenceau.

The informal opinion of the commission on the French "suggestions" will then be transmitted through Ambassador Herrick to the French finance minister; and on the basis of this information he is expected to decide what definite proposal France shall submit for debt settlement.

Probable Route It Will Take.

Formal negotiations then would be begun between the French government and the American debt funding commission. Whether France would send a new financial commission, similar to the one headed by M. Farnesier, over here at once, is not certain. Out of the mass of reports dealing with recent phases of the French debt situation several facts stand out clearly. One is that France has no thought of repudiation, the government of that country having responded promptly to the reaction created in the United States by the wrong interpretation placed on the French "balance sheet."

BLACK SHIRTS OF ITALY HUNT MUSSOLINI FOES

Find a Rebel Plot to Wreck Railways.

ROME, Jan. 4.—(By the Associated Press.)—The measures announced by Premier Mussolini in the chamber of deputies yesterday for overcoming the opposition to the fascist government of Italy within forty-eight hours are already being put in force.

The fascist railway militia are hunting the authors of a plot, unearthed by the police, to stir up disorders on the railways as recently evidenced by incendiary fires at stations in Rome, Florence and Parma.

Simultaneously the prefects throughout the kingdom have been authorized to make searches and dissolve all political clubs of an anti-fascist character, while other sections of the fascist militia have been mobilized in order to strengthen the police.

Fascist Stage Demonstrations.

In various parts of Italy the fascist militia have carried out demonstrations. In Rome the local legion, 1,500 strong, engaged in tactical maneuvers with machine guns. There was assumed to be a sudden attack against Rome by an enemy assembled at Civitavecchia, the legion being divided into two groups for the maneuver.

The suppression of the centers of agitation, together with the muffling of the opposition press and reinforcement of the police, the premier believes will break down the opposition. The Messaggero asserts Sig. Mussolini has realized the impossibility not only of collaborating with the opposition, but even living in peace, and that all attempts at pacification and normalization have failed.

"These," says the paper, "have been met by the opposition with embittered intransigence, criticism, attacks and attempts at a popular uprising, leading to three phenomena of growing gravity. First, the rearmament and rapid reorganization of subversive forces, indicated by their activity in terrorisms and their insurrectional organizations; second, growing incitement among the fascist ranks, thus far restrained, but dangerous in case of a possible explosion; third, acute national uneasiness, not only political but economic, which cannot be overlooked without grave financial consequences, owing to the pressure of foreign anti-fascist interests."

Spor Mussolini to Fight.

The impero, addressing Sig. Mussolini, says: "You solemnly promised in the chamber yesterday that fascism, namely young Italy, of today and tomorrow has been awaiting for months—the inexorable charismatization of a brutal enemy and the courageous defense of the Fascist revolution, personified in you. You dramatically repeated the cry of the tragic hero: 'If there is sin in fascism, I wish that all my virtues may kneel before that sin.'"

Sp. Paralyzed, the Fascist leader at Cremona, writes the following: "We who have been called mad and ignorant are now starting a new Fascist era. Today we really hope to develop our revolution; we are able to say to those who malign us: 'Take off your hats before these mad ignoramuses.'"

Calls "Rome Memorandum" Bogus.

Advocate Romualdi, consul for Cesare Rossi, author of the famous "Rome Memorandum" written in his own defense and charging Premier Mussolini with being the instigator of numerous "aggressions," has issued a statement declaring after a most careful investigation he could say the publication of this memorandum was not authorized either by Rossi or himself, or by any member of Rossi's family.

WILD DAY IN ROME

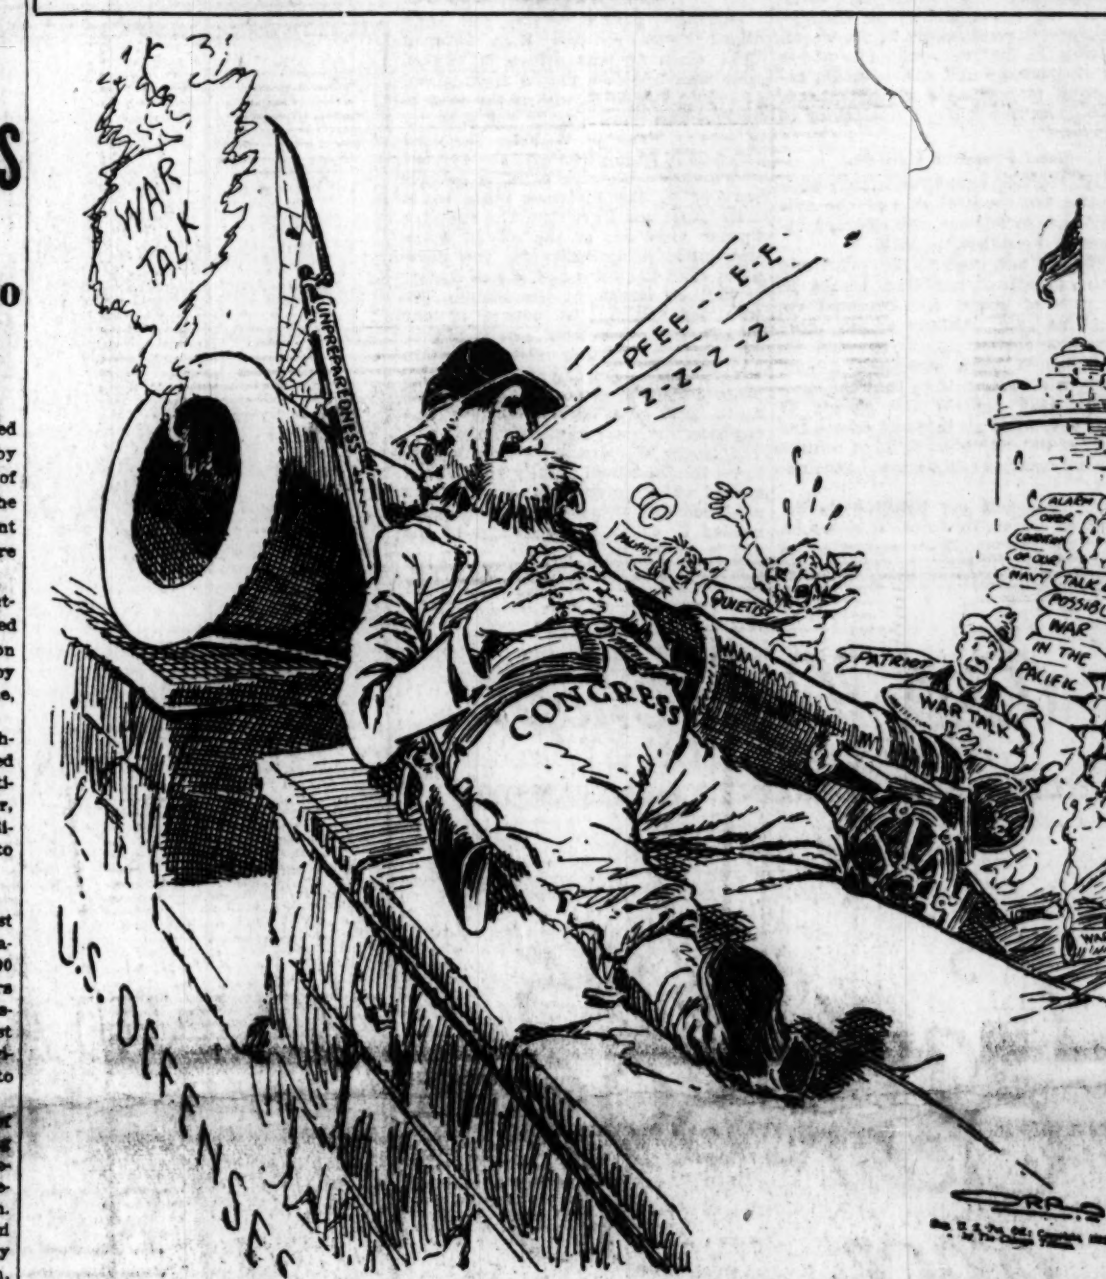

BY JOHN STORER.

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)

ROME, Jan. 4.—Today was one of the stormiest since the days of 1848, when parliament wavered between intervention against Germany in the world war and neutrality. Since early morning strong guards of fascists, reinforced by squads from Florence and other cities, paraded through the main thoroughfares, singing war songs, waving sticks, and threatening to execute the editors of local opposition dailies. The whole garrison was kept in readiness at the barracks, while strong detachments of infantry and mounted carabinieri guarded the plants of the newspapers Mondo, Gloria d'Italia, and Vice Republicans.

Toward noon the black shirt militia intervened on page 18, column 3.

NOT SHOOTING AT ANYBODY. ONLY TRYING TO AWAKEN THE SENTINEL

Asks Council Open Sessions With Prayer

BY THE REV. W. B. NORTON.

That the Chicago city council should open its meetings by prayer was named as a New Year's wish by Dr. John Thompson yesterday morning at the Chicago temple.

Another wish expressed by Dr. Thompson was that human life and property should be rendered safer in Chicago in the year 1925 than in the past.

A question sent up to the pulpit asked what Dr. Thompson thought of a wet celebration of New Year's eve.

Streets Happy Safe.

"I was on the street New Year's eve, and I saw a great many people apparently happy," said Dr. Thompson. "I didn't go any place where liquor was served, and so I do not know the amount of liquor that was consumed. Nor am I so much concerned about that as I am about the question of the safety of law abiding citizens who do not go into places of crime or danger, but who, nevertheless, are constantly under the menace of somebody with a gun."

"I walk the city streets late at night, and I confess that I do not feel as safe as I would like to feel. I can think of no wish I can state in a few words that would mean so much for our city as the making of this city safe, not for criminals, but for the decent citizen."

Follow U. S. Congress.

Dr. Thompson then advocated as a help in better morals the opening of the sessions of the city council with prayer, in the same manner that the national house of representatives and senate are opened.

"Prayer would be a recognition of God and of the moral obligations of our city law makers," Dr. Thompson said.

CANDY DIPPER'S WOOLING LEADS TO BUTTER BATH

Industriously J. Flexner Stokes set out to become the champion chocolate dipper of the world, in the finals of next summer's gumdrop rodeo. Near him labored the queen of the chocolate dipper. Their friendships ripened while other chocolate dipperers gnashed their teeth.

Last night J. Flexner Stokes had visitors. Two great big, strong brutes wearing sour looks pounded on the door of his home at 4433 North Ridge way avenue. He was taking a bath.

"I am only partially robed, but come in, gentlemen," said Mr. Stokes. "You're mad right we will," growled one of the huskies.

Things then occurred to J. Flexner Stokes. He was given another dip in the bathtub. Then his hair was clipped short. Next a pound of butter was smeared over his naked scalp.

"We'll season you a bit," said the assailants, as they poured pepper and salt into the oleaginous mixture.

"An' then they stuck raisins all over the wretched youth," reported Officer J. Patrick Malone to Irving Park police last night. "He looked like a pound cake."

Irene Castle McLaughlin Now Mother

Mrs. Frederic McLaughlin, formerly Irene Castle, the dancer, gave birth to a seven pound daughter yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock at the Michael Reese hospital. Both Mrs. McLaughlin and the baby are doing nicely.

The child, it was reported, will be named for her mother. Little Irene is Mrs. McLaughlin's first child, although she has been married three times. Her first husband was Vernon Castle, a British ace who was killed while instructing American student pilots in Texas during the war.

Her second husband was Capt. Robert E. Treman, whom she divorced in Paris. She gave up her stage career when she married Mr. McLaughlin, Chicago sportsman and social leader, on Thanksgiving eve, 1923.

The McLaughlins went to Japan on their wedding tour and spent much of their time after their somewhat unexpected return in Chicago. Last August Mrs. McLaughlin left for a vacation in Europe. After a few weeks abroad she returned to Chicago and went into seclusion.

She was taken to the military hospital at Fort Rosecrans, where her condition is called serious. The sentry is under arrest. He said the car failed to halt when ordered.

Razes Works of Chicago Packing Co.

Fire of unknown origin late last night wrecked the Chicago Packing company's plant at 45th street and Gross avenue. The loss is estimated at $400,000.

William Bennett, watchman, discovered the fire in the offices shortly after 11 o'clock and sent in an alarm. By the time firemen arrived the three stories and basement of the brick structure were swept by flames. A "4-11" alarm and a later call for five additional engines put into action almost the entire south and southwest fire fighting apparatus before the blaze was quelled.

Keep It from Spreading.

Greatest effort was devoted to holding the blaze from spreading to the Union stockyards, three blocks away, and to surrounding structures. A brisk wind fanned the flames and made sparks a menace.

It was early apparent that there was no hope of saving the Chicago Packing company's structure. From the roofs of other buildings nearby and from streets on two sides downy streams of water swept the blaze itself and surrounding buildings as fast as flying sparks ignited them.

Several firemen were overcome by smoke, but were quickly revived. Hundreds of persons living in the thickly settled district "back of the yards" were forced from their homes by the blanket of smoke which hung over many scores for hours.

G. D. Lieberherr, secretary of the company, said that the loss will be well over $400,000.

Several hundred carcasses of cattle, sheep, and lambs slaughtered Saturday were still in the building and these made an almost unbearable stench to add to the discomfort under which the firemen fought.

Other officers of the company, which built the building several years ago, are Ignatz Katz, president, and Howard Pearce, treasurer. The structure had just been redecorated from top to bottom.

Mrs. Oscar Meyer, 1357 Madison Park avenue, dropped a pearl necklace worth $3,000 while in the loop New Year's day. A few minutes later Mrs. Fortune picked it up.

She watched until the loss was advertised. Yesterday, Mrs. Fortune picked it up.

"It goes into my husband's business," said Mrs. Fortune. "We're partners."

NEAR DEATH IN FURNACE AFTER
FALL INTO COAL

Death in a blazing furnace was within an ace of claiming John Keyes of 1502 Sedgwick street, a worker at the Lake View pumping station, yesterday. As it was, Keyes was buried alive in tons of soft coal and was only saved after frantic efforts by a dozen fellow workers.

Workers noticed that Keyes was missing and they heard a faint cry. Lights were flashed and they saw Keyes rapidly sinking into the bunker. Only his hands were showing, waving vainly.

Just when Keyes was being drawn toward the flaming maw of the furnaces below, several of his friends jumped in with long planks and managed to seize him.

Men Ask Increase; Employers Balk.

Three thousand coal teamsters, drivers of the trucks and teams for the 400 yards that supply practically all the coal for the city and suburbs, go out on strike for higher pay this morning.

Those who are short of fuel may have to suffer. The strike was voted late yesterday, following two weeks of efforts by the officials of the Coal Teamsters' union and the teamsters said last night that not one wagon will be moved out of any of the 400 yards, excepting to supply hospitals and orphanages. These were the only institutions that were exempted. All others—theaters, hotels, public and private works of every sort—must have a supply or go without, the teamsters' officials ordered.

Public Chief Sufferer.

As usual, it was indicated that the public will be the greatest sufferer of the wrangle between the coal drivers and their employers. The big institutions and public works are to have a good supply of coal on hand; it is the private homes and the apartment buildings that will be hardest hit.

The strike is over pay and working conditions. The contract between the union and the employers expired on Dec. 31. The men under it were getting 70 cents an hour, 40 cents overtime. In the new contract they demand a raise of $3 a day and a clause that the driver himself need not handle the coal, that it be handled, shoveled off, or carried into the basements in bags by the helpers.

Hold Strike Meeting.

The employers refused flatly to consider that contract, submitted to them about two weeks ago. A series of parleys followed. The final offer of the union was to take a raise of $1 a day, with added clauses covering overtime and the handling of the fuel by the helpers.

Local 764 has about 2,000 members, all coal teamsters, and its president is Milton Booth. T. J. Lynch heads local 762, which is a building trades union, and voted unanimously to go on strike.

Local 764 has about 2,000 members, all coal teamsters, and its president is Milton Booth. T. J. Lynch heads local 762, which is a building trades union, and voted unanimously to go on strike.

The strike, while voted late in the afternoon, does not become effective until this morning. Many of the teamsters worked all night supplying a number of loop theaters and other places with enough coal to last them several days or longer.

Statement by Employers.

A Frank Drury, president of the Chicago Coal Merchants' association, issued this statement:

"The original demand of the coal teamsters was for a $3 a day increase, time and a half for overtime, and double time for Sundays and holidays with the added understanding that drivers should not handle coal. These demands could not be met. The labor committee of our association and representatives of the union have held several conferences and couldn't reach an agreement. The calling of a strike is a surprise to me as I understand another conference would be held Monday."

Meet This Morning.

Drury last night tried to gather his board of directors but failed. They will meet this morning at 9:30 o'clock in the association rooms in the Transportation building.

At the same time the strikers' union will be meeting at 437 South Ashland avenue and there is a possibility that commitments from both sides will get together before the day is over and prepare to submit the strike problems to arbitration.

Coal merchants last night claimed that overproduction and keen competition together with little business during the summer, have put them in no position to pay increased wages.

Several declared cards would be kept open today to supply schools with coal, even though police protection is necessary.

pany, Robinson Coal company, Peterson & Dunn Coal companies, the Western Fuel company, and Bunge Bros. Some of these larger companies prepared their patrons for what was coming by sending them letters of warning a week ago. It is said many of the customers took advantage of the warning and laid in good supplies against the possibility of a strike.

City Well Supplied.
City Engineer John Erickson said the city has a supply on hand to outlast any ordinary strike.
"We always have a thirty to sixty days' supply on hand," he said. "That has always been our policy. I am sure we can keep the city well supplied up to the water works and other city institutions going until the strike is over. In any case we'll see that the fire is kept burning."

Henry A. Zender, chief engineer for the county said he has a two weeks' supply on hand.
The Commonwealth Edison company was not at all alarmed. An official said its four or five big power houses are supplied by carload direct from the tracks.
The majority of the big manufacturing plants are on the railroad tracks and also get their coal out of the cars. So are such institutions as Sears, Roebuck & Co., and Montgomery Ward & Co., and other houses. And so the officials of all such concerns are not worried about strikers' strikes.

SHORTAGE IN HOTELS

The strike, should it materialize, will find the principal hotels with little more than three days' supply of fuel in their bins, inquiry developed.
"Should the strike persist for more than three days, it undoubtedly would prove serious for us," said John B. Drake, head of the company which operates the Drake and Blackstone hotels.

Mr. Drake asserted that both the Blackstone and the Drake are supplied with coal by motor delivery. A check of other large hotels, including the Lott string of hosteries, the Parkway, Belden, and Webster, revealed about the same stocks on hand as that reported by Mr. Drake.

Harry Moir, proprietor of the Hotel Morrison, alone among hotel men, appeared optimistic.
"The Morrison, along with the First National Bank building, is heated by contract with the Commonwealth Edison company," he said. "And I believe some way will be found to supply our heat."

Mr. Moir said he thought it would be possible, if necessary, to make fuel deliveries to the Morrison furnaces by way of the tunnel system which networks the loop district, although the tunnel is not regularly used for that purpose.

WATER SUPPLY CUT OFF BY JAM OF ICE AT CRIBS

Scores of residents of the Norwood Park and Edison Park districts became alarmed yesterday at a sudden failure of the water supply from the Mayfair pumping station. Chief Engineer John Erickson found that huge blocks of ice had blocked the intakes in the lake.

A force of men, rushed to the cribs off the north shore, succeeded within two hours in cutting away the jams and restoring the service.
Ald. Thomas J. Bowler, who lives at 5048 Addison street, said his telephone was clogged with calls reporting the failure of the water supply.

La Salle and others, have at least a week's supply, it was stated.
Supply in Loop.

Managers of loop office buildings reported supplies sufficient for several days in their bins and refused to take alarm on the belief that the tieup would not last until these supplies are exhausted.

The University of Chicago can stand a month's strike if necessary, according to Chief Engineer John Nickels.
"We have at least 4,000 tons in reserve, besides enough at immediate hand to run us several days," he said. Edward J. Kelly, chairman of the south park commission, declared the strike would not seriously embarrass the park system. He said goodly stocks were on hand in all of the parks, including the small outlying parks.

The strike will not effect the various power plants of the sanitary district, according to Mr. Kelly, who said railroad spur tracks touch all of the district's power houses.

SAVANTS SPLIT ON WHY WE ARE GOOD AND BAD

Man Not Foredoomed by Heredity, Says One.

Man—the poor wretch who ends in the hall of fame or on the gallows, all according to the alloy in which he was born, as pictured by scientists who project theories of heredity and environment—was given a word of cheer yesterday by Prof. C. Judson Herrick, professor of neurology at the University of Chicago. In his address at the City club to several hundred men and women who are authorities on juvenile problems.

Prof. Herrick took direct exception to the remarks of others taking part in celebrating the twenty-fifth anniversary of the founding in Chicago of the first juvenile court in the world, and insisted that man may rise above a weak heritage and above sordid beginnings, to become a strong citizen. His address was "The Foundations of Behavior."

Raps Freudian Cultists.
Prof. Herrick closed his lecture with a polite, but forceful slap at the cult of modern social workers who are devotees of Freudian theories.

"We are now face to face with one of the greatest stumbling blocks in the path of social and personal reform," he said. "Many of our most prominent doctors, attorneys, and social workers have embraced a cult which, while recognizing that the community may control the course of social development, in effect denies the power of the individual mind to control personal conduct and personal development."

"By that cult my behavior is determined for me by forces over which I have no control. Why worry? Is the theory. Not feeling responsible, self-indulgence is excused as self-expression and liberation of personality. These theories not only flout common sense and universal experience but they cannot endure scientific analysis."

Environment a Factor.
Dr. Charles M. Child, professor of sociology at the University of Chicago, told of laboratory experiments on quarantined animal cells which had influenced the form and development of the animal—and then applied the theories to man, contending that man is born already sentenced to be heavily influenced by heredity and surroundings.

Dr. Franz Boas of Columbia university said that science has found that the manners of men and customs of society go not by tribe and blood but by the territory in which men live. Ernest H. Groves, professor of sociology, University of Boston, said: "The modern newspaper needs psychiatric supervision, and a policy of self-restraint in its use of gruesome details, especially with reference to crimes that are pathological in origin and naturally have a great quantity of suggestion for morbid and unbalanced readers."

TELLS HOW LATE KING EDWARD WON $500,000

BERLIN, Jan. 4.—[By the Associated Press.]—How King Edward VII, when he was prince of Wales, once won 5,000,000 marks from a son of Prince Radziwill, one of the leaders in Prussian demerit-royalty and a crony of former Emperor William, has been revealed in connection with the current investigation into the banking policies pursued by the Prussian State bank.
Dr. Karl von Furchard, the son of a former president of the official Prussian bank, is authority for the statement that the prince of Wales during a visit to Berlin in the middle '90s won $500,000 in the course of one night's gambling from young Radziwill. As the debt had to be paid within twenty-four hours the elder Radziwill pledged his vast estates to the Prussian State bank as collateral for the cash covering his son's gambling debt.
Emperor William, who was keen to have the Radziwill family escutcheon spared a blot, intervened and the bank condescended to advance the amount needed to cover the winnings of the prince of Wales.

Girls of great anti-social renown, leaders among the most fashionable exponents of highway robbery and de luxe burglary, were "not at home" yesterday to detectives seeking the recovery of more than $200,000 in jewelry taken in the Parkway hotel robbery. One of their gentlemanly consorts, however, was less retiring, and was last heard of in a cell.

His name was given as Earl G. Morton. He said he was from St. Paul, Minn., and he carried more than $1,000 in cash in his pockets as well as several unset diamonds. His arrest came when he called at the Parkway hotel and asked for his friend, George Connel, alias the Rabbit.
Sergeant William Cox and James McLaughlin happened to be among those present. They were trying to get the trace of the young women who are now in possession of the diamonds belonging to Mrs. Harry Hart and other residents of the Parkway.

These are well known to the best detectives as Betty Connell, Marie Connell, Margaret Collins, and Ethel (Mickey) Johnson, all of whom have made their debuts in police circles.

EX-COP ADMITS KIDNAPING; SAYS HE'S NOT IN KLAN

Lloyd Martinson, an ex-policeman living at 1617 North Springfield avenue, was rearrested yesterday on charges of conspiracy to kidnap and mutilate A. R. Gartner, 2194 West Division street, as a Ku Klux Klan punishment.

Detective Capt. John Steeg ordered his arrest and the arrest of the others involved in the attempt. None of the others could be found yesterday.
Martinson confessed participation in the kidnaping of Gartner, but said he did not know what it was all about or why. He denied membership in the Klan and attributed leadership in the venture to a man he knew only as "The Sheik."

Capt. Steeg said all the participants were dance hall habitués, "ballroom lizards," and that he understood the motive to be jealousy of Gartner's companionship with Miss Irene McKellan, who is employed in the social service department of Montgomery Ward & Co.

BERLIN, Jan. 4.—[By the Associated Press.]—The new Reichstag convenes tomorrow, faced by a situation that is as confused as the foreign outlook, the relations having indicated that by no means is at the end of a political struggle.

NEW REICHSTAG FACES DIFFICULT JOB IN GERMANY

Conditions Muddled as Chamber Opens.

BERLIN, Jan. 4.—[By the Associated Press.]—The new reichstag will convene tomorrow, faced by a political situation that is as confusing to the German people as it is bewildering to the foreign onlooker, the recent elections having indicated that Germany by no means is at the end of her violent political struggle.

The two extremes of monarchism and communism have become smaller than in the previous parliament. The communist delegation has been reduced from 62 to 45, and the Ludendorff National-Socialists from 32 to 14. But no party has anything like a majority, and even the parties that seem most alike cannot command a clear majority.

It seems obvious, therefore, that to effect any sort of government that will command a safe majority there must be a mixing of elements that ordinarily do not mix. Or, if that proves impossible, things might carry on for a while longer under a minority government which enjoys the benevolent neutrality of a powerful non-government group or groups.

The thing that naturally came to the minds of the politicians first was: Why not continue with the old Marx-Stresemann government which in the new reichstag would be supported by 69 Centrists, 51 People's party delegates, and 32 Democrats, and which could count on the benevolent neutrality of 111 Socialists. This idea was no sooner put forward, however, than it was shattered by the positive statement of the People's party that it would consider remaining in the government only if the coalition were expanded to the right, that is, to include the German Nationalists.

That settled the fate of the Marx-Stresemann cabinet, for the present at least; for the Democrats, who had fought the Nationalists bitterly, could not see their way clear to work side by side with avowed monarchists, anti-Semites, and anti-internationalists. As it was Stresemann's people's party which had thus broken up the existing government, President Ebert put it up to Stresemann to find the solution.

Stresemann Falls Down.

Stresemann seems to have hoped he might realize his pet scheme of a bourgeois bloc, pitted against the two workers' parties, the Socialists and the communists. But even before the problem could be touched as to how the Democrats might be persuaded to accept the olive branch of the Nationalists, Stresemann's efforts came to a

SETTING THE GRANDMOTHER RECORD

Baby Robert James Sweeney, 3 months old, has more grandmothers than any other baby, perhaps, in the middle west. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Mark Sweeney of Waukegan, Ill. The junior grandmothers are Mrs. Peter Sweeney and Mrs. William Starkey. The great-grandmothers are Mrs. Rachel Sweeney, Mrs. Ellen Starkey, Mrs. Grant Purgett, and Mrs. Ella Body. Left to right (standing): Mrs. Purgett, Mrs. Sweeney, and Mrs. Body. Seated: Mrs. E. Starkey, Mrs. R. Sweeney, and Mrs. W. Starkey. [Pacific and Atlantic Photo.]

rude shock when the Catholic Center party, of which Chancellor Marx is the leader, and which has a large membership of Catholic men of labor, declined to be a party to such a combination.

President Ebert then tried the semi-official method of asking Chancellor Marx to sound all the parties once more with a view to discovering some possible combination. Marx, one of the most conciliatory men in public life, tried patiently to reason with the various parties, but in vain.

Will Try Non-Partisan Plan. Seemingly as a last expedient to ward a solution of the mixed up situation, President Ebert on Saturday gave to Chancellor Marx a commission to endeavor to form a non-partisan cabinet which would have special authority to protect itself in parliament when it could not rely on a working majority.

It is generally assumed that the three middle parties—the Clericals, the People's party, and the Democrats—will permit their present delegates, Chancellor Marx, Foreign Minister Stresemann, and Minister of Defense Gessler, to return to their present offices, but it is not yet evident that Marx will be able to recruit other members of a cabinet from either the Nationalist or Socialist parties.

While the new government may count on a sufficient majority in the reichstag when national issues, such as that affecting the allied decision to remain on the Cologne bridgehead, are up for action, a non-partisan cabinet is destined to find itself very necessary support on measures affecting internal affairs where differences between the Socialists and some of the bourgeois parties are likely to confront it with heavy opposition.

Want Equal Trade Rights.

As the provisions of the treaty of Versailles which deny Germany reciprocal customs accommodations expire Jan. 10, the German government already has decreed that after that date the most favored nation clause will be applied only to such countries as accord German products similar treatment. Among the most important trade pacts concluded but not yet ratified by the respective countries are those between the United States and Germany and Great Britain and Germany. The negotiations with France and Belgium have reached a deadlock, which will preclude the conclusion of formal agreements before Jan. 10.

REDS REPORTED TO HAVE ORDERED EGYPTIAN COUP

Direct British Massacre, Turkey Hears.

BY RAYMOND FENDRICK.

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]

CONSTANTINOPLE, Jan. 4.—The struggle between the British and the Bolsheviks is becoming more violent daily.

The communist Internationale's order Moscow today sent an order to its agents in Egypt to force a general uprising of the Egyptian people in the shortest possible time against all British troops, officials, and civilians in the country, regardless of the cost, and against American and European residents as well.

In the order M. Zinoviev says a general massacre of the British in Egypt, followed by British reprisals, will set India aflame against the British rule. The communist Internationale's order for an Egyptian uprising, as well as the recent order for a Bolshevik uprising in the Balkans in March, is a counter measure to the British effort to organize all the border states, into a united front against the twin organizations, the communist Internationale, and the soviet government.

The prospect of all Europe, with the moral support of America, forming an anti-Bolshevik bloc has struck fear and terror in Moscow. The recognition and promise of financial aid from Europe gave the soviet increased prestige and authority in Russia and crushed the morale of the opposition, particularly in the Caucasus. If Europe now breaks off relations with the soviet, in effect at least, and establishes a credit and assets boycott against them it will be a terrific blow to Russia and a powerful encouragement to a counter revolutionary movement. The financial situation of the soviet is so bad that the movement will collapse soon unless they secure large credits. The soviet are spending their last gold reserve to buy American flour for the Red army.

Establish Base at Palestine.

In the Egyptian campaign the communist Internationale is rushing propagandists, printed propaganda and funds to Egypt on the gatorfoot, or state owned soviet ships, which call regularly at Alexandria. The communist Internationale has established a base at Palestine for the Egyptian campaign.

To assist in the campaign the soviet just have organized a second shipping service to Egypt and Palestine under the name of sovorgdott and appointed a skillful propagandist, Israel Frodenbert, as director of the service. The communist Internationale is sending propagandists to Palestine in the guise of Jewish colonists.

Ask Investigation In Georgia.

BRUSSELS, Jan. 4.—An investigation of the situation in Georgia since the suppression of the revolt by the soviet was demanded during the conference here of the combined second Internationale (socialist International) and the Amsterdam International.

A resolution concerning the trades union commission for protesting only against the religious intolerance when freedom of the press and freedom to organize both are non-existent under the soviet," was passed.

FAKIRS WATCH WORLD FLYERS REPAIR PLANES

While Sacred Cattle Blink

SECTION XLV.

Calcutta in June is about as cool as the nethermost pit with every furnace burning.

The mercury starts to climb out of the bulb as early as April. Then the British Sahib send their wives and children to the "hill stations" in the Himalayas. And by the end of May even the Sahib himself have fled, leaving party facel, antelope eyed Eurasians and bearded chewing Beng ali babus to run their offices.

It was in this sultry spot that the world flyers were summoned to the cheerful prospect of banquishing for many days unless they could de vise some way of circumventing the hundred degree Fahrenheit Hindoo phi losophy of "why do to do what you can put off till tomorrow."

But Lowell Smith and his fellow airmen had lost too many days, how ever, flirting with the "wills-wavs" of Alaska to be in any mood for lotus eating in Kipling's "City of Dreadful Night." All they wanted was to change from pontoons to wheels, give the spot where the tragedy of the Black Hole of Calcutta had occurred the "once over," and then fly on across Asia to Europe to Paris with the throttle wide open.

But those who had made the ad vance arrangements here where "Moth er Ganges" empties the ashes of de vout Hindus into the Bay of Bengal had planned otherwise. Not that the advance officer had failed to do his duty, but here in the native haunts of the nimble punkawalla and the seduc tive chotagep even the hustling Amer ican becomes a changed man.

Plane Changes Difficult.
It so happens that the only real airline near Calcutta is a busy line from Chowringhee and Dalhousie square. The treacherous Hoogli river, formed by the union of the Ganges and the Brahmaputra, is even more densi
ly crowded with shipping between Kid derpore and Howrah bridge than the Hudson off Battery point or the Mer sey at Liverpool.

So, over many cups of tea at the Bengal club, it had been decreed that the American world flyers should move their planes fifteen miles up the Hoogli, completely dismantle them, load them on trucks, carry them overland to the British airfield, re build them, substitute wheels for the pontoons that had been used all the way from Seattle, and then after wait ing to see the race for the Viceroy's cup, proceed to fly across India, in the leisurely, dignified manner of the east.

But Lowell Smith and his compan ies did have to lose one day. That was when they stayed in busy while Indian dhobies laundered their clothes by pounding them on rocks. Even then the day was not entirely lost, be cause harbor officials, representatives from the street commissioner's office

THE WORLD FLYERS AT CALCUTTA

This map shows Calcutta, where the flyers changed from pontoons to wheels. They first landed at Benachapore. After miles up the Hoogli river from Calcutta, on June 15, the arrangements that had been made for changing landing gear proved too slow, so they flew back down the Hoogli to Fort William [2], had the planes lifted out of the water, and the change done in the Maidan, a park in the heart of the city.

naval experts and police came to talk over the flyers' plan to bring their planes back down the river, land in the midst of the traffic, hoist them up with cranes, roll them over into an adjacent park, and make their repairs
in the heart of Calcutta.

Hard Work Starts Native.

Late that afternoon the shobies re turned with the remains of the few clothes the boys possessed. But by then it was tea time, and all men know afternoon tea is the most im portant event of the day to the Eng lishman out east. After declining many invitations to partake of libation, the flyers went out to the famous park in the rear of Calcutta, called the Maidan, and worked until dark over their cases of supplies and spare parts.

When night came they loaded them into trucks, went to a garage, and con tinued working until 3 o'clock in the morning.

Early the next day they motored up the Hoogli to where their planes were moored. On the way they got the first intimate view of the Ben gal babu shuffling to work in his quaint shirt with an umbrella under his arm. They also were amused by the native women with their ankies, wrista, nose 'obes, and ear lobes danc ing with bangles and by the copper colored youngsters wearing the tiny silver heart that takes the place of the traditional fig leaf. They also got their first glimpse of monkeys flitting from tree to tree.

Climbing into their planes, they flew down the river and, despite the swar ring tail-rotor and the misters from everywhere, they made a perfect land ing near Fort William, where Warren Hastings and Lord Clive laid the founda tion for Britain's mighty empire in India. A crane, jacked each plane out of the water, the pontoons were taken off while crowds of natives stood wide-eyed and expectant streams of crimson pederest juice over the landscape. In just three hours they had the planes out of the Hoogli and safely on wheels in the middle of the Maidan, where all Calcutta gathers of an afternoon.

"Not only were we delighted with the sportsmanlike spirit shown by the British officials in Calcutta," re marked Commander Lowell Smith,
"but the enthusiasm of the natives
from the American destroyer in port believe in improving themselves spiri tually by physical torture.

"How the British or any one else can maintain a stable cover forest in a land where millions wander about smearing with cow dung, and where these glassy eyed, naked ascetics are regarded with reverence by tens of millions of others, is beyond me. On this flight we rediscovered many things we had forgotten, one of which was that India is as large as the United States.

"We also found it inhabited by three times as many people belonging to the white, black, yellow, and brown races as live in America. We discovered that they speak nearly a hundred different languages, belong to forty or fifty dis tinct nations, and are split up into thousands of different castes and sub castes who have nothing whatever to do with each other socially.

British Management Wonderful.

"We Americans think we have done wonders in building up great cities in the three centuries since our forefa thers landed here. But Calcutta is a city of over a million people. It is one of the richest seaports on earth, and it has been built by the British in a little over a century.

"The American Legion post of India gave us a banquet, and some of our fellow countrymen came a thousand miles just to wish us Godspeed. We left the banquet fairly early, but from all accounts it was one of those things that improve with age, because next morning when we were going to work at 6 o'clock we met our hosts on their home."

The next evening the boys went to dinner with various friends. Smith and Arnold being entertained by the Cal cutta representative of the Standard Oil. When they were starting back to their hotel at 1:30 an accident oc curred that came near causing another delay to the expedition. The rainy season was approaching and the sky was overcast.

The streets in the outskirts of Cal cutta are not particularly well illumi nated, and as the boys were leaving their host's home, blinded by the light from the hallway, Smith stepped into a hole, turned his ankle, and in falling struck the curb and broke his ribs. Al though he suffered intense pain all night, he refused to believe that he had been injured. But Arnold called a doctor, who discovered the broken rib.

Next day while the rest of the flyers were putting the finishing touches to the planes Commander Smith re mained at the hotel. Refusing to allow the flight to be delayed because of his injury the following morning, Tuesday, July 1, he was out on the Maidan at daybreak with the boys all ready for the flight across the plains of India, the flight on which they were to be the first Americans to ever look down from the sky on the sacred Ganges, the holy city of Benares, and

ALLIES TO CUT UP RUHR MELON ON WEDNESDAY

Readjust Payments Under Dawes Plan.

BY HENRY WALES.

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)
PARIS, Jan. 4.—Everything is prepared for the allied financial conference Wednesday to cut up the spoils of the Ruhr and reapportion the shares of German reparations accruing from the Dawes plan.

Winston Churchill and United States Ambassador Frank B. Kellogg are due in Paris Tuesday, and Premier Herriot today conferred with M. Clemenceau and the other ministers to apply the finishing touches to the French policy.

The biggest point at issue will be whether the French will be permitted to deduct the cost of the occupation of the Ruhr from the receipts obtained there, as the British contest this on the same grounds that they opposed former Premier Poincaré's action in seizing the territory, while America has a claim to collect under the Wadsworth priority agreement for reimbursement for the cost of the army of occupation from the first payments by Germany under the Dawes plan.

Annual Payments to U. S.
The Wadsworth agreement provides for annual payments on America's army claim of 1,672,000,000 gold marks ($268,000,000). Then there is a deduction of $1,000,000 gold marks ($22,750,000) to carry the 800,000,000 gold mark ($130,000,000) loan to Germany and the cost of the French, British, and Belgian armies of occupation, and, finally, the Belgian priority.

After deducting these various items it is expected that less than 500,000,000 gold marks ($125,000,000) will be left from Germany's first annual payment of 1,000,000,000 gold marks ($250,000,000) to be divided among the allies.

Little Nations Want More.

The Roumanian premier, Bhatiano, arrived today to demand a bigger percentage of reparations for the little peoples, since the total indemnity from Germany has been tacitly reduced from 132,000,000,000 gold marks ($33,000,000,000) to 100,000,000,000 gold marks ($25,000,000,000).

HANDS OF DEATH

The hands of the clock indicate the number of deaths by autos, guns, and moonshine in Cook county since Jan. 1.

200,000,000 to an indeterminate sum about half that size by the Dawes plan. Premier Bratiano has Jugo-Slavian support and also that of the other small allies for demanding an equal voice in the conference with the delegates of the big powers or they will not recognize the finance ministers' decisions.

Despite Washington's official announcement that the American observers will not be permitted to discuss war debts, it is admitted here that pourparlers toward a settlement of France's obligations to the United States and Great Britain will occupy a primary place in unofficial conversations outside of the conference room. Premier Mussolini's critical position, it is feared, will prevent Italy from participating in these discussions, which may delay reaching a final decision.

Germany Hears Decision Today.

The note carrying the decision of the allied ambassadors' council not to evacuate the Cologne zone on Jan. 10 will be delivered to Chancellor Marx in Berlin tomorrow by Lord d'Abernon, British ambassador representing all the other allied ambassadors.

Lord d'Abernon, according to the united opinion of the allied governments, will call the Reich's attention to the importance with which this decision is regarded, explaining at length the reasons for this action by the allies. These reasons relate Germany's failure to comply with the disarmament and demobilization clauses of the Versailles treaty, which makes the allied withdrawal dependent on the fulfillment of such stipulations.

DRIVER FLEES AFTER SPEEDING AUTO KILLS MAN

Two more deaths attributable to automobiles occurred yesterday.

John Shrouder, 57 years old, 2846 West 21st street, was one of the victims. At West 22d street and Marshall boulevard an auto traveling at high speed hit him and passed on. A broken motorist lay beside the dead man.

Sigurd Christofferson, 17 years a fireman, died yesterday at Mid-west hospital of injuries received when he was hurled from his truck when it hit a safety island on the way to a fire. He was noted in the department for his strength and held several records.

Condition of five boys hurt in Melrose Park Saturday night when their bobsled was struck by an automobile was unchanged. Police early yesterday found an auto stuck in the lake ice south of the Municipal pier. Witnesses said a man and girl, apparently intoxicated, ran into the lake and fled. The license was one stolen from a car of another make owned by Frank Bacarella, 1913 Ohio street.

STAND BY FOR GABE'S TRUMPET! MISS PANKHURST

New York, Jan. 4.—[Special.]—The judgment day is close at hand. This was the message brought today to Assumption Memorial church by Christabel Pankhurst, as famous in militant suffragette circles as her mother, Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst. Miss Pankhurst, now a lay preacher, delivered the first of a series of talks on world events.

The ensuing year, as she sees it, will be pregnant with far-reaching events. The immediate future holds the formation of a great confederation of nations under the overlordship of a dictator whose role will correspond to that of the "anti-Christ" in the Bible, she added.

"We are entering upon the last phase of this age. The Jew is back in Palestine, and we are witnessing the restoration of the Jewish national home in the ancient Promised Land. To Jews and Gentiles alike this is the supremely important factor in world affairs today, because it is the decisive, practical guarantee that the Son of God, who is the Christ of the Christians and the Messiah of the Jews, is soon to appear."

LONG SOUGHT WEALTHY YOUTH VANISHES AGAIN

Several squads of detectives last night searched downtown hotels and rooming houses for Howard Conrad, 26 years old, son of wealthy Memphis parents, who was discovered here Saturday after being missing four months. He disappeared again fifteen minutes after being found.

H. J. Trangenstein, physical director of the Central Y. M. C. A., saw young Conrad in the lobby of the hotel Saturday. He recognized him as the missing Memphis man, who disappeared strangely in December after a fall from a horse had hurt his head. Conrad admitted his identity and went to a washroom while Trangenstein phoned for the police. When they arrived the young man had departed. Detective Sergeant Lawrence Fox arrived last night from Memphis, but his trip was futile.

Shoots and Kills Host

Moonshine yesterday brought death to Henry Morgan, colored, of 1123 Calumet avenue. Richard Mack, 383 Kensington street, shot him after a dinner, a lot of liquor, and a brief argument.

PASTOR MILLS, NOW UNDER FIRE, DECRIES GOSSIP

Members of the New England church, historic Congregational edifice at Dearborn street and Delaware place, were told the evils of gossip yesterday when the Rev. Thornton Anthony Mills preached his morning sermon. His subject was "Words, Words, Words."

"There are people we all know," he said, "who are members of the Society for the Promotion of Moral Fifth. Their activities cause more sorrow than all the murders and robberies of the world."

sign Jan. 14, brought himself into his sermon.

He said: "My home was burglarized three nights ago and everything in it was disheveled and torn. That burglary never created a ripple among my acquaintances. But prying gossip carries heartaches in its wake. A scandal monger, say the Scriptures, is destined for hell. The scandal monger creates for his own hell here on earth, for he calls his brother a fool is himself a fool. He lives in a hell of his own making."

Victor Lawson, newspaper publisher, said to be a leader in the attempt to force the pastor to resign, was present in the congregation.

"Mr. Lawson has a cane which interests me," Mr. Mills said. "On it are carved the three famous Japanese monkeys which carry a valuable message. The monkeys represent 'Hear no evil, see no evil, and speak no evil.' Their lesson is one which should be learned and practiced."

Pastor's Wife Sings.

Mrs. Ruth T. Mills, wife of the Rev. Mr. Mills, sang "My God and Father While I Stray" in a rich contralto while the collection was taken. The offering ended, "Thy will be done."

meeting at 8 o'clock tonight in the church office. He also announced that the council, at the annual meeting of the congregation set for 8 o'clock Wednesday night, would adjourn the meeting to Jan. 14.

Church leaders say that at that time a member of the opposition party will move that the Rev. Mr. Mills resign from the pulpit. And they point out that a large part of the Sunday and Wednesday congregations, attracted by the pastor's radical sermons, are not members of the church and consequently are ineligible to vote on the question.

Prof. Arthur Holt of the Chicago Theological seminary attended the service.

"If this church practices the lesson of that sermon," he declared, "its progress will be irresistible."

RAPS MODERNISTS

Modernism, at least in some of its manifestations, is more ruthless in its opposition to the Christian church than ever were Thomas Paine and Robert Ingersoll, according to the Rev. W. S. Plummer Bryan, pastor of Presbyterian Church of the Covenant, who preached last evening on the subject, "Dr. Bryan said he intended to try to clear up the confusion in the minds of many as the result of the charges made against Harry Emerson Fosdick and the latest discussion concerning Maj. T. A. Mills, pastor of the New England Congregational church.

"The Christian church has encountered opposition since the days of Calist and Porphyry," Dr. Bryan said. "It encountered Thomas Paine and Robert Ingersoll, but never in its history has it encountered a hostility more able, more brilliant, more resourceful, more ruthless and more relentless than the form of modernism which claims to be merely a new interpretation of the Christian faith."

The term modernism originated in the Catholic church in France, and the term fundamentalism originated in Chicago in connection with a conference concerning the second coming of Christ. They are both recently invented terms. The real issue, however, is not between the new and the old, but between the false and the true."

Dr. Bryan said there was a class of modernists who accepted the supernatural and historical facts of Christianity, but sought for certain other changes, and such ought to be dealt with in charity, but the extreme type who are trying to substitute their own views for the creeds and faith of the church, must be stoutly opposed.

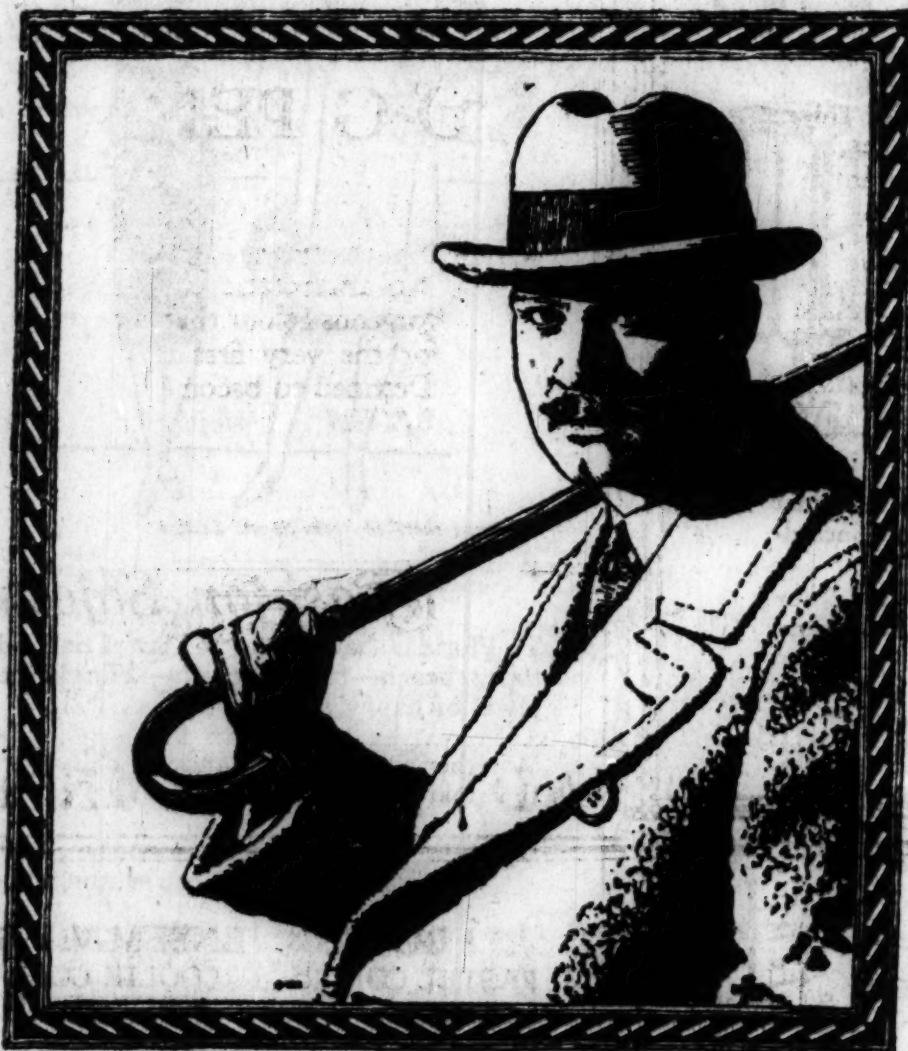

YANKEESWINDLER NABBED IN PARIS BEGS FOR U.S. JAIL

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)

PARIS, Jan. 4.—"I'm going home to a comfortable jail," was the boast of Samuel Hammel, alleged American swindler, who spent several weeks sampling the accommodations of the French prisons before sailing today on the Aquitaine.

Hammel, immediately after his arrest, complained about his quarters, complained about the meals, and finally offered to pay his own passage home if the United States would only extradite him. Wanted for a $50,000 theft, Hammel was arrested in Marseilles for peddling narcotics. Amused by the prisoner's objections, the French authorities took up the case with America, and his extradition was ordered.

NELLIE ROSS TO BE INAUGURATED GOVERNOR TODAY

Simple Ceremonies at Wyoming Capitol.

CHICAGO, Wyo., Jan. 4.—[By the Associated Press.]—In an atmosphere of simplicity, Mrs. Nellie Ross, widow of the late executive of Wyoming, will be sworn into office as governor at noon tomorrow.

She will be the first woman to become the governor of a state.

Mrs. Ross requested that there be none of the customary ceremonies usually attendant upon an inauguration. The ceremonies, in the senate chamber, will consist merely of the administration of the oath of office by Chief Justice C. H. Potter of the Wyoming Supreme court and a short inaugural statement by the new governor.

Ceremonies Open to Public.
The senate chambers will be open to the public. Even the customary gubernatorial reception will be dispensed with, and Mrs. Ross plans to retire to the governor's mansion as soon as the formalities have been completed.
Mrs. Ross' election to the office in the November elections followed a swift turn of events brought about by the death of her husband in October during the midst of a speaking campaign in which he was urging the adoption of a severance tax amendment, one of the outstanding features of his announced legislative program.

Won by 10,000 Votes.
Hastily summoned Democratic and Republican conventions, assembling in the emergency, nominated the widow of the late governor and Eugene J. Sullivan of Basin, Wyo. At the polls the electorate of Wyoming expressed in no uncertain terms its desire to have Mrs. Ross to carry on the work started by her husband, and the first woman governor of the United States was swept into office by a plurality exceeding 10,000 votes.

Since her election she has buckled to the task and has worked daily on budget recommendations she expects to make to the legislature when it convenes after her inauguration. In this work she has had the assistance of Attorney General David J. Howell and Byron C. Huie, formerly state banking examiner, both close personal friends of her husband.

KOSTNER TELLS WHY HE'S CALLED TO BRIBERY TRIAL

Alderman's Illness May Interfere.

AM. Joseph O. Kostner, from the bed he has occupied for twenty-five days in St. Anthony's hospital, yesterday told how he happened to be present in New York during the payment of $47,500 in what the government alleges was an effort to bribe Attorney General Harry M. Daugherty and others.

This money, it is alleged, went into the hands of Gaston B. Means and others who go to trial in the criminal branch of the federal court in New York this morning.

Mr. Kostner said he was there as the attorney for one of the men involved in the payment, that he personally handled $25,000 for his client, but thought the money was for legal fees to the New York firm of lawyers which represented his client and fifty-six others in proceedings brought against them by the government for misuse of the mails.

Witness for Government.
"I was a witness before the grand jury in the case of Means, Col. Thomas B. Felder, and Elmer T. Jaroske," Mr. Kostner said. "I am to be a government witness also, if my condition will permit me to go to New York. And so I am limited in what I say."

Then he explained that the government might censure him if too much

Paid in Filder's Office.
"I was in Filder's office when the $47,500 was paid over. I was there simply as Safr's legal adviser, and had carried $25,000 for Safr, which I gave him there. Further than this I didn't pay any particular attention to the paying over of the money except that I know it was paid over.

"I understand now that it was paid by these four young men I named with Safr—the Chicago boys—to go to

Means or some one to get them out of trouble, if possible, and keep them out of the penitentiary.
Ald. Kostner has not moved from his bed for the twenty-five days he has been in the hospital. It is some cardiac trouble, he said. There is a murmur in his heart. On his door was a sign saying: "No Visitors Allowed." And the visitor who came was given only five minutes with him and cautioned that the alderman must not become excited.

Some Hat Considerations For Pilgrimages South

SIMPLICITY is the principal theme of the new Hats. Otherwise the more varied they are the better. Crowns, generally high and soft, fall into many angles, aided by their brims. Latest Paris reports say, too, that faille, felt, hair with metal or ribbon, satin and straws may be chosen with equal assurance.

The Hat and Scarf Set in Pastels

Entirely new, a crushable high hat of white silk over yellow, with a single flower; the cape-scarf in these same colors with trig white leather upstanding collar.

Bright Tunic Blouses Create Costumes for Southlands

PRACTICALLY a gown in themselves, these tunic blouses of knee length prophesy the mode for the coming season. A Blouse of flat crepe with white embroidery and bands in many high shades is $20. Others in prints and embroidered designs are from $15 to $45.

Hand Embroidered Shawls, $150

Gorgeously embroidered in colors, these Shawls are perfect for the pleasantly cool evenings of the South.

Bright New Lines For the Southern- Wear Plot

THE season is resplendent with color—shades dipped from the Mediterranean or caught from the flaming blossoms or cool, smooth leaves. Color, even in the subtlest details of the costume, is the watchword for southern wanderers.

For Sunlight or Shower

Here is a luxurious necessity—an Umbrella that may be raised effectively in sun or storm. There is one of flame silk with border of green polka dots, and one of gaily checked silk, all with fascinating imported handles and smart stubby lines.

First Floor, South, State

New Shoes With Patches!

Shoes with patches need not rouse sympathy, for they are not beggars' tatters but the newest mode. For the sports costume there are white kid shoes called "Peter Pan" with applied patches of patent leather, or in blonde and brown combinations. Braided Deauville sandals in bright colors and white are also seen with sports ensembles.

Fourth Floor, South, State

Sports Hose for

Any Temperament

Or any temperature, for there are many weights and weaves. White wool Hose have woven patterns in clever color combinations. Then there are heavy ribbed silk in high colors—and the new chifon lisle Hose even more sheer than silky and daintily lace-clocked.

First Floor, North, State

A Touch of Color Cheers
the Sombre Costume

Vests of brightest silks make even a dull costume interesting. They are of heavy silk, very tailleur of line and pocket, and fastened straight up the front with buttons of clear amber color.

And the Scarf, too, appears in new riots of color—prints, batiks, embroidered Spanish styles, and pastel for evening.

First Floor, Middle, State

An "Initial" Short Cut

Linen Handkerchiefs already monogrammed? Not impossible, for in these sheer little French kerchiefs you will find combinations of two initials attractively embroidered in white on the colored background of linen.

First Floor, Middle, State

The Final Touch

Gloves, a key to the correct costume, are very simple for the southern season. Slip-ons of the softest do-skin that have perforated tops pinked at the edge are to be worn in the four-inch length so smart with short sleeves.

First Floor, South, State

New Fabrics for Sunny Places

For the Crisp Morning Frock

GINGHAMS are in plaids that prove them to be eternally fresh and new, broadcloths are smart for mannish modes and Linen appears in novel checks, stripes and embroidered designs.

Dainty for Afternoon

The sheer simplicity of Voile is cool in effect even at the warmest hour of the day, particularly in the newer pastels. Cotton and silk mixtures of Crepe have printed stripes or embroidered designs of Rayon.

SOUTHERN Apparel—so advanced that it anticipates the modes of June; so varied that a gossamer frock and wrap for soft Florida evenings are no more colorful and enticing than a fur-bordered, kasha-lined coat for steamer or for a mountain drive in California. Indeed, the right things for every recreational and social phase of the winter life of those who follow the sun-trail are here happily assembled—though but a few are suggested below.

Gowns to Fit Into Every Hour Of Sunshine and Moonlight

IF you would remain north this winter, beware of the lure of these Frocks, fashioned to dot radiantly, beach, lawn, dinner, dancing under swaying palms. Kashas, trimly tailored, tub silks of gay blazer stripes, Roman taffetas, for daytime—for afternoon and evening, perhaps an embroidered Chinese net over orchid satin, poppy-girdled, or a slender flowered chiffon beaded into a quaint nine-inch flounce.

Women's Costumes, Sixth Floor, South, Wabash

Tiny Collars, Deep Fur Bands Transform the Lines of Coats

SLENDER, to be sure, but no longer severely so are these newest of Coats with their narrow collars, unadorned, and their tendency to flare into bands of monkey, red fox, or natural lynx.

Homespun, white or in clear colors; satins, failles, bengalines with rich embroideries or appliques, perhaps kasha-lined; delicate imported fabrics with deep fluttering bands and cuffs of ostrich.

Women's Coats, Sixth Floor, North, State

The Ensemble, More Than Ever Important in Women's Suits

NATURALLY, when such beauty of design and fabric can be so skillfully combined, and with the great advantage, too, of a complete smart frock wearable apart from the coat—lovely light colors or the deeper striking ones; the Rodier fabrics with bengalines and soft silks; lines of simple elegance.

Women's Suits, Sixth Floor, South, State

For Those Who Would Enjoy Midsummer Sports in Midwinter

FOR the links, gay little blazer coats with kasha skirts, imported sweaters with flannel collars, or silk ones with scarf; homespun skirts with flannel overblouse. But the newest sports frock is of imported twine cloth, plain as to skirt with crisscross blouse. Sports coats of Rodier woolsens, of imported homespun, of flannel or silk, of an imported shawl, kasha-lined with a dashing collar of natural lynx.

Women's and Misses' Sports Apparel, Sixth Floor, South, State

Misses' Coats and Ensemble Suits Combine Their Fabrics Smartly

A KASHA Coat, for example, in natural tone, has a lining and full-length vestee effect of brilliant, striped taffeta. One of the many new Ensemble Suits, too, uses bengaline for its coat, trimmed with Jeannette hare fur—collar and band—while its trig little straight frock is made of a light printed silk. Youthful lines, new, unusual colors and fabrics.

Misses' Coats and Suits, Sixth Floor, Middle, Wabash

Charming Frocks Misses Will Wear to Tea and Dance In

ALL is not sports that attracts to the south for the winter. The teas and dances have their important place in the social regime as well. Frocks for these times allow themselves greater latitude in fabric and trimming. One crepe faille model, for example, uses coral and deep ecru to rich advantage with the black. $87.50.

Taking Inventory Means Bargains for You

Sometimes it is good sound business for us to sell out odds and ends of stock at much less than we paid for them. Many of these pieces are individually just as good and just as desirable to you as the day we bought them. But as stock it is expedient for us to clear them away at almost any price they'll bring—just to make room for newer and fuller lines. Often there are too few of them to advertise. Right now the store abounds with them while we're taking inventory.

FOR WHOM DOES A WOMAN DRESS? PARIS DEBATES

PARIS, Jan. 4.—[By United Press.]—The woman who dresses for herself, or to confound other women? This riddle, designed to discover why women dress themselves as they do, whether to please their own eye as they gaze in a mirror, or to make some other woman miserable by making her look shabby in comparison, has been propounded by a Paris newspaper to many celebrated French men and women.

It was a grave procedure, and the replies were as serious as the question. Even Premier Edouard Herriot, with trouble enough of his own, dropped state papers long enough to consider and to answer the query.

Novellists flood ignorance. Contrary to the usual result in such cases, the men—most of them novelists and so-called men about town—repeated what they had read in ancient tomes about the origin of social customs, starting with the well known episode in the Garden of Eden when the serpent did his work.

"Eve had nothing to work with but leaves, but she induced Adam to follow her into the outer darkness," said Robert de Flers, who is supposed to know something about feminine psychology. "Since then all women have followed her example."

Mlle. Spinel, the actress celebrated in Paris and in New York as the possessor of the most beautiful of modern legs, was more terse and explicit. Here is her explanation of why she dresses as she does: "For three reasons—for myself, for a man, and against other women."

Here is Herriot's View. Premier Herriot, who was known as the slouchiest dresser in public life until he visited London and had a look at British statesmen in the snappy accoutrements of Bond street, had this to say:

"I believe women choose their gowns above all, and perhaps exclusively, to confound other women."

Mme. Regina Dandier, one of the luminaries of the music halls, was very frank. "I dress for the public when I am going to appear in a play," she confessed, "but I dress for men when I can—because I am a woman."

"Because Everybody Does It."

Mme. Marthe Requier, whose gowns excite the envy of all women, many of whom attend her plays for no other purpose than to see how she is arrayed for the stage, admits that clothes are rather irksome to her, but declares she has to follow custom.

"I dress because everybody does," she wrote, "and because we are not permitted to wander about without clothes. Then, of course, once you have to dress you might as well do it elegantly. When I came into the world somebody dressed me—and I've kept on doing it."

Maurice Donnay, who is an immortal, one of the venerable body known as the Academie Francaise, decided that "women dress according to the prevailing fashion, rather than according to the styles that suit her figure."

Paul Giscard, a writer of best sellers, believes that "women feel the need of pleasing, just as men feel the need of dominating."

Mlle. Mistinguett, a recent visitor to the United States and the most popular revue singer in the French capital, perhaps summed up the whole problem in the following remark:

"When I can do it, I dress as I please. I have so often to dress to please others. When I have to wear a black gown I feel sad, and when I dress in bright colors I am happy. This is as true when I wear a beautiful gown to please some one which does not please me, as when I wear something, perhaps less lovely, which does please me. To feel well I must dress according to my own taste."

THREE BOB DRUG STORE. Three men last night robbed the Star Drug store, 1365 East Marquette road, of $100 after forcing two clerks into a rear room. They escaped in an auto.

CITY'S LODGING HOUSE REOPENED; IS FILLED NIGHTLY

The municipal lodging house, 162 North Union avenue, which was reopened a few days ago by Miss Mary McDowell, commissioner of public welfare, as an emergency measure, is filled to capacity nightly. Funds for the support of the institution for two months, approximately $2,000, are supplied from the mayor's contingent fund.

Eighty-eight men were accommodated the first night and an average of 120 men have slept there each night since. Breakfast of coffee and rolls is served to each man before he leaves in the morning.

Miss McDowell is strongly in favor of keeping the house open the year around, and will endeavor again to get an appropriation from the council for that purpose.

MRS. JOURNEY SAYS SHE'S DONE WITH PROFESSOR

"Not a chance" was the way Mrs. R. C. Journey last night summed up prospects of reconciliation with her husband, North Carolina State Agricultural college professor. A reconciliation was urged on Saturday by Judge Joseph Sabath in denying divorce to the pair. Mrs. Journey announced that she is ejecting from her premises Oscar Harmon, youthful law student, blamed by her husband for many of their troubles.

FOUND DEAD IN BED. Emil Carlson, a salesman living at 6315 South Union avenue, was found dead in bed yesterday. Blood vessels had burst.

Saturday's Puzzle Solved.

Another puzzle, together with the solution of today's will appear in The Tribune tomorrow.

L. ALEXANDER, PIONEER DAYS DETECTIVE, DIES

Leopold Alexander, proprietor of Alexander's Detective Agency, and widely known in Chicago circles, died at 5 o'clock Saturday afternoon in his home, 4319 Leiland avenue, after a six weeks' illness.

In the frontier days of the early '70s in California, Arizona, and New Mexico, he established his agency in Chicago forty years ago and was active up to the time of his illness. He is survived by his widow, a son, Bert S. Alexander, and three daughters, Mrs. William Daniels, Mrs. Lawrence Berwick, and Mrs. Leonard Willison.

Flat Feet

Positive Relief Can Be Given in Six Weeks

THROUGH new discoveries and developments in the Post System we are able to demonstrate definite changes in the foot structure in a surprisingly short time. Flat feet are the result of fallen arches, or twisted, or ill-fitted shoes often result in bone misplacement—the whole arch collapses, the foot spreads, its parts press on delicate nerves and blood vessels cutting off blood drainage in the ball of the foot. This causes flat feet and all the symptoms that go with them. Removing shoes, bathing the feet, using arch supports or patent devices give only temporary relief.

Our Scientific Method

All foot ills can be remedied by a sure process—simply placing the bones of the foot's arch into proper position. We know the exact location of each bone and ligament. We will replace them, and then Nature will keep them in place, after a surprisingly few treatments. BRACES AND SUPPORTS ARE DISCARDED because Nature restores the foot to normal, and normally no braces are needed. $168 persons of every thousand in Chicago are suffering needlessly from FLAT FEET, when they can be relieved so easily.

Foot Examination Free

We charge you nothing for an examination. After we look at your feet we will give you a close estimate of the cost of giving you PERMANENT RELIEF.

PUZZLEMAKERS! SEND IN YOUR DESIGNS; $25 FOR GOOD ONES

Puzzle makers! Here is an opportunity to market your efforts. The Tribune wants original crossword puzzles. For each acceptable, original crossword puzzle this Tribune will pay $25.

OBSERVE THESE CAUTIONS: All puzzles must be interesting—that is, no part of the puzzle should be entirely separate from the other parts. No obsolete or extremely unusual words may be used. Abbreviations used must be in common usage.

A neat and artistic design takes precedence over an ill formed one. Number the design and keep the crossword and definitions on a separate piece of paper.

On a separate sheet have it thus:

HORIZONTAL. Crossword. Definition.

1. Horse. Draft animal.

VERTICAL. Item of office furniture.

Keep out foreign words, French, Greek, Spanish, Latin, Swedish, old English, etc.

Make the definitions accurate. Use the dictionary.

No puzzles will be returned, nor will the editors enter into correspondence concerning them. If you value your design, preserve a copy. The checks will be mailed to the winners, so name and address must accompany each design. Address Cross Word Puzzles, The Chicago Tribune at once!

LEGION STARTS DRIVE FOR FUND OF $5,000,000

With Chicago and Illinois as the starting point, the American Legion yesterday opened its drive for a $5,000,000 endowment fund. The interest from the fund, amounting to $225,000 annually, will be devoted to disabled veterans and the children of soldiers who died as a result of war service.

These children are relatively entitled to the same chance in life they would have received had their father not given his life to America. That is the very minimum," said Howard P. Savage, state department commander, as the drive opened.

Field workers from the national headquarters assisted in the preliminary work of organizing and will meet with the city and state committees during the progress of the intensive campaign.

Among the prominent persons of Illinois who are members of the national honorary committee are Vice President Charles C. Dawes, Mrs. Medir McCormick, Marshall Field III, Frank O. Lowden, Kewanee Mountain Landis, Albert A. Sprague, Maj. Gen. George W. Hart, and Gen. Milton J. Foreman, past national commander of the American Legion.

Supplementary United States Aid. The yearly income from the fund will be divided equally between rehabilitation and child welfare, according to Commander Savage, who explained: "The government has passed liberal laws and made liberal appropriations of money to care for disabled men of the world war."

"But relatively few Americans realize the limitations which must always surround government relief, even with laws perfectly drawn and perfectly administered, as of course, they have not been during the early years of this work."

"The Legion can carry out its program in spite of the relatively small income, because it throws 300,000 or more members and auxiliary workers into its task, and they contribute their services as well as their money."

CLEARANCE

At Handsome Reductions

IN rearranging our Winter stocks, we have grouped several hundred of our fine Suits and Overcoats for young men in a dual offering and re-marked them at very substantial reductions.

These garments represent broken lines of patterns and sizes. They include many of the most popular models of our own design, in colors and fabrics that have made a decidedly favorable impression on our young men customers and that are obtainable nowhere else.

The fact that the lines are broken as to sizes is really an indication of their popularity.

Yet such is the variety of our stocks, the diversity of fabrics, patterns, and colors, that there's practically every young man's size available in many alternative choices.

In the suits, both single and double breasted models are included, all tailored to the highest standard in the entire industry.

The fabrics, in many cases, are distinctively fine imported wools selected by our representatives in the great weaving centers of Scotland, England, and Ireland. The remainder are superior wools of domestic make, chosen for their attractiveness of pattern as well as their excellent quality.

We suggest that you inspect these offerings at your earliest opportunity and note the decisive savings the very sharp reductions make possible.

VOTE ON POSTAL PAY BOOST VETO MAY BE BLOCKED

Washington, D. C., Jan. 4.—The postal salary increase issue, complicated by the administration's proposal to provide for postal advances as well as salaries, comes before the senate tomorrow.

The pay measure, pending since President Coolidge vetoed the bill passed at the last session by congress, is to come up under an agreement which also provides that a vote on the veto must be taken not later than 4 p. m. Tuesday.

Mosses May Block Vote.
Before debate can open tomorrow afternoon on the pay increase veto, however, Senator Moses (Rep., N. H.), in charge of the administration bill, increasing both postal salaries and rates, has told the senate he will seek adoption of this measure. This would forestall, if successful, a straight out vote on the veto.

Administration leaders are doubtful today, however, of the prospects of immediate action tomorrow on the administration bill, in view of the announced intention of some of the members to have a vote first on the veto. If the measure is blocked until after the veto vote, its future, of course, depends to some extent on the result of the veto ballot.

Would Amend Bill.
Complicating the desire of Senator Moses for immediate action further, is the announced intention of Senator Odell (Rep., Nev.), a member of the postoffice committee, to move for elimination from the bill of the proposed 1 cent a pound increase on advertising matter in publications subject to first and second class rates.

Coffee Cake Poisons
Seven; All Recovering
Seven residents of 2714 Euclid avenue ate coffee cake at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon. They entered the county hospital at 5 o'clock yesterday morning, were treated with stomach pumps and sent home. Five of the patients were of the family of Michael Miller. They are: Nettie, 26 years old; Ralph, 3; Edna, 6; Florence, 5, and Thomas, 2. The others were Helen Kulwiec, 25, and May Cleier, 18. They bought their cake, they said, in a bakery near 32d and Halsted streets. The health department is investigating.

defiled along the Corso with guns and machine guns as a warning to the opposition, as well as the population, against attempting counter demonstrations.

After the parade several thousand Fascists made desperate efforts to storm the offices of Giornale d'Italia. While the bulk of demonstrators held the attention of the troops, a small group succeeded in entering by a side door and set fire to the delivery department, damaging a few presses. The carabinieri promptly extinguished the fire and repeatedly charged the Fascists. For the first time revolver shots were exchanged between the Fascists and carabinieri.

Later on the Fascists made another attempt on the offices of Mondo, but were dispersed. Throughout the day units of carabinieri were stationed at strategic points. The city this evening is awaiting developments at the expiration of the forty-eight hours set by Premier Mussolini for the unconditional surrender of the opposition group, which he formally promised his had picked majority in the chamber of deputies. What he purposes to do is still a mystery, but many believe Sig. Mussolini will close parliament, which would deprive the deputies of their parliamentary immunity, thus making them liable to arrest on any trumped up charge. This would require the consent of the crown, but doubtless the king would sign the decree.

Bologna was the theater of unusual events last night. After a late evening edition of a newspaper circulated Premier Mussolini's speech in the chamber groups of Fascists wrecked the headquarters of the Republican and Populist parties, the editorial rooms of Mulo, a humorous weekly, and the law office of the Republican deputy, Sig. Bergamo. The police prevented raids on the local daily newspapers.

NO PUZZLE IN CROSSWORD HERE; 2 ARE STOPPED

"It's my paper and I want the crossword puzzle first," said Sargent Peterson, 8050 Lake Park avenue, yesterday morning to his son-in-law, Albert Cooper.

"But I'm the better crosswordist and the better man and I get it first," said the son-in-law. Cross words followed. Crossed daggers came next.

When the battle was over Cooper was in the Wilson hospital with a crisscross cut on his chin, in which several stitches were taken, and Peterson was crossly submitting to attention for a slash over one eye at the Cottage Grove police station. Father and son-in-law last night declared the family's affairs had arrived at the crossroads.

Mother of Five Leaps to Death at Hospital

Despondency because of long continuing illness is believed by police to have prompted Mrs. Grace Baumann of Niles Center to leap to her death Saturday night from a sixth floor window of Augustana hospital, where she had been a patient for a month. Mrs. Baumann, the mother of five children, was to have been discharged from the hospital yesterday, it is said.

On the Nation's Business

ASLEET storm snaps wires in New England; a blizzard fells a line of poles in the Western ranges; a flood overwhelms a valley community; a prairie cyclone sweeps away everything in its path;—wherever the emergency, men and materials are rushed to the spot in order that telephone service, vitally important at such a time, may be restored.

And the mending of every break restores to telephonic users, everywhere in America, a particular path for the passage of their voices. Whether sudden calamity comes from an Atlantic gale or a Texas "twister," its damage must be repaired at once, because it cripples some part of a communications system that is nation-wide.

Because America has universal service, the telephone truck speeding to a scene of disaster is truly "on the nation's business," and the implements of its workers are weapons wielded in the nation's cause.

a raw throat

invites infection
from disease -

Give it continuous antiseptic treatment

THERE is always danger that a sore throat may have grave consequences. The discomfort is by no means the most serious part of it.

The soreness and inflammation—bad as they are in themselves—are worse as indications that germs are at work—poisoning your whole system, reducing your vitality, laying you open to influenza, grippe, pneumonia—many dangerous diseases.

Whenever your throat feels raw and feverish, don't wait to begin treating it until you can get home to use a gargle or spray. Get a bottle of Formamint tablets and begin at once giving it continuous antiseptic treatment—wherever you happen to be.

FORMAMINT is the only throat antiseptic of genuine germicidal power with which you can keep up your fight against germs all day—in your office, at the theatre, in the street car.

Carry Formamint with you and every half hour or hour dissolve one of the pleasant-tasting tablets in the mouth.

As it slowly dissolves it bathes every fold and crevice of the throat tissues with one of the most powerful germicidal agents known to science in a form which is perfectly safe.

Wherever you are, you can always renew the germicidal action with another tablet. And this uninterrupted, all-day-long treatment clears out the poisonous throat germs as the momentary and occasional action of a gargle cannot do.

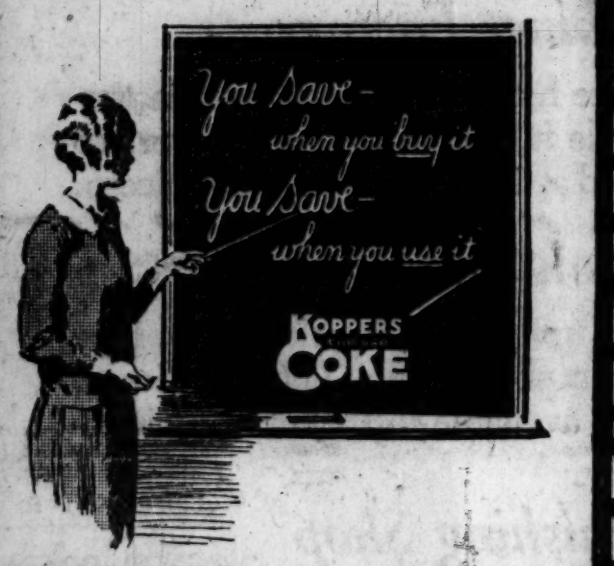

Keep Formamint always on hand and begin to take it the moment you notice the first sign of sore throat.

This is the most modern, most scientific way to treat sore throat.

To prevent sore throat, to protect yourself when exposed to contagious diseases—during epidemics, in crowds, in dusty streets—take a Formamint tablet about every two hours. Ask your druggist.

POLICE RESCUE WOMAN WHO IS HELD PRISONER

Philadelphia, Pa., Jan. 4.—[Special.] "Dear Friend: Don't come here to help me, but take this to the nearest police station. Tell my husband, John Maloney, of Wilmington, Del., that I am being held prisoner by D. A. Carson, 135 Franklin street. Don't let my husband come without the police and don't try to help me without the police."

"MRS. MOLLY MALONEY."

This note, hastily scribbled on a small piece of paper and barely legible, led to the release of a woman who was being held prisoner by a man when district detectives responded to the call for help this afternoon.

Thought Note a Joke.

Found by a passerby Saturday night, the note was not placed in the hands of the police until Sunday afternoon, the person who found it believing it to be a joke. When Detective Casper and Manning received the note they went to the address.

Knocking on the door, they were admitted by a man who gave his name as D. A. Carson. Looked in a second story front room they found the writer of the note, who had been imprisoned there since Saturday afternoon. She was taken to the station, where she related her story. She gave her name as Molly Maloney and said she lived at 135 Bennett street, Wilmington, Del. About a year ago, she said, Carson, who formerly lived in Parsonsburg, Md., came to board at their home. Unaware that her husband knew of what was going on, she said she became infatuated with Carson.

Served Army Prison Sentence.

It was not until today she learned that her husband had thrown Carson out of their home. Carson then joined the army, and when questioned by the police, admitted having served six months in an army prison on Governor's Island.

He was released on Dec. 22 and came to Philadelphia. According to his own confession, he wrote continuously to Mrs. Maloney, requesting money, which she gave him. Mrs. Maloney said Carson had threatened to tell her husband everything if she did not do as he said.

Frightened by his threats, Mrs. Maloney came to Philadelphia Saturday on the pretense of shopping after Carson had directed her to bring him some money. She went to the Franklin street house and gave him the money, she said. Carson forced her into a room and locked the door, she said. She waited for several hours, but there was no response to her repeated pounding on the door.

Invitation in Verse Bids Attendance at Rummage Shop Sale

That society matrons aren't passing long before resuming their charitable activities after the hectic holiday which the unusually long holidays and the going-on of the "chill" from home from school" caused in their routine, is evidenced by the White Elephant Rummage shop card to the day's malling the recipient to a rummage sale on Thursday at Mrs. Gustavus F. Swift's at 1551 Astor street. The invitations, couched as many similar ones have been before, in the rhymes generally accredited to Mrs. Samuel T. Chase, are embellished with the White Elephant crest, in which that doughty animal appears joyously waving a large banner. They read:

On January eighth you are invited to a tea to benefit the Rummage Shop. And it is only to be said that Mrs. Swift's on Astor street (the last house on your hand) is the place to go to get the right thing in a good idea. To have a "Rummage" tea a few days after Christmas. We have that you'll agree. For we can bring the presents our country contains sent. Knowing well the Rummage Shop waits all where you want! The hours are three to six o'clock. And if you've been before. You know there'll be real things to eat and debauches to pour! And Mrs. Swift has promised as a special treat the eighth: To an event until the eighth: Please don't forget the day!

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gardfield King of 1459 Astor street will give a dinner for about twenty friends of the young daughter, Barbara, this evening before the dance which Mrs. and Mrs. A. Wat-son of 1200 Lake Shore drive are to give in their apartment for their son, Watson, and about 150 of the Junior League.

Miss Marjorie Farwell, daughter of Mrs. Ralph Sewall Farwell of Evanston, will have Mrs. William Bradford Pease as matron of honor, and Miss Helen Farwell, Mrs. Hibbard Casselberry, Miss Dorothy Macle, and Miss Louise Kellogg as bridesmaids for her marriage on Jan. 20 to Donald Campbell Brock, son of Mr. and Mrs. Archibald J. Brock of Kenilworth. George C. Brock will be the bride's best man, and Stanley B. Farwell, the bride's brother, Jack Outbitt, Philip G. Stiles, and Russell J. McCaughey will usher. The service will be at 3:30 o'clock in the evening at Christ Church, Waukegan, by the Rev. E. Ashley Gerhard. A small reception at Mrs. Farwell's residence for relatives and a few intimate friends will follow the ceremony. A wedding of interest to Chicago society took place on Saturday in West Orange, N. J., when Miss Blanche Silver, daughter of Mrs. Edgar O. Silver of West Orange, became the bride of J. Dorsey Montgomery, son of Frederick D. Montgomery of 1411 State parkway.

The formal announcement has been received of the marriage on New Year's day of Mrs. Kenneth Parker of St. Louis to Robert Marshall Rolosen of Evanston, which took place in St. Louis. Mr. and Mrs. Rolosen are to be at home at Mr. Rolosen's residence, 1214 Lake Shore drive, Evanston, after Feb. 1.

The Junior league girls, who charmed so many youthful audiences with their "Word of the Week" in a special card today, to give a performance of the play in Detroit tomorrow under the auspices of the Junior league of that city. Miss Janet Pauling is engineering the performance. "The Sleeping Beauty," the next play to be produced by the Children's theater, to have its premiere next Saturday morning at the Playhouse, is being coached by Mrs. Elliott Jenkins (formerly Alexandra Carlisle). Clever Janet Pauling designed the scenery, and Mrs. John Winterbottom Jr., the club's busy president, planned the costumes.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Goodspeed of 191 East Walton place and Mr. and Mrs. John T. McCutcheon of 2450 Lake View avenue departed Saturday evening for San Francisco, where they will sail on Wednesday for their tour around the world. Their itinerary is to include the South Sea Islands, Shanghai, and the Gobi desert. They plan to return in June. Mrs. McCutcheon's mother, Mrs. Howard Van Horn Shaw, will spend the winter with two grandchildren, Jack and Howard Shaw McCutcheon, during their parents' absence.

Infant Welfare Meeting.
The annual meeting of the Hyde Park branch of the Infant Welfare society will be held at 2:30 o'clock today at the residence of Mrs. Harold Pittman, 1217 East 56th street.

Two Weeks Ahead.
Everybody has been discussing the "do you" mailing early" idea, and when our mail man called at the office on Dec. 13 I asked him when he thought I should mail my Christmas cards. He said, "I'd surely mail them today."

Well—I did it! Some of the cards were being sent to fellow workers in the office. Can you imagine my embarrassment when the mail man delivered the cards that same afternoon, almost two weeks before Christmas?

They surely had a good laugh at my expense. E. S. R.

Frank and Fearless.
One beautiful sunny day my little daughter and I were preparing to go to the park. We were just ready to leave when a neighbor came to make a call.

After staying about two hours Mrs. Smith said, "Why, Jane, how is it you aren't out on such a beautiful day?" Jane replied, "Well, he was going away, but you're staying too long." R. B.

ANSWER TO WHAT'S WRONG HERE
Whether a grouch emanates from physical or mental conditions, it should be suppressed. Forbear to show it in your daily intercourse, as you would the fact that you are a kleptomaniac.

WINNIE WINKLE, THE BREADWINNER: Fawthaw Broadcasts His Complaints

Mother's Sphere No More Limited than Most Others

BY DORIS BLAKE.

"It seems to me my life is so narrow and hampered," a young married woman writes. "I have been married seven years, and have three children, and a home to look after. It isn't that I don't love my husband or my children, and my home, too. But it is all so limited. If I could just do something really worth while! Housework never gets you anywhere. When I see young women starting out to work in the morning I envy them; their days are so interesting. My husband's work, too, is so much more interesting than mine. And he has so many more opportunities. A man always has."

This is one of the commonest and most dwelt on ideas of feminists. They are always placing emphasis on man's unlimited opportunities, as well as on those of the unmarried, financially independent woman, as against the wife and mother's narrowed sphere, an emphasis which is often misleading. Surely a mother's work is in no sense of the word narrow. It is as wide as humanity itself. The mother who has children and yet gives them over completely to nurses' care that she may have her time away, or leaves them at nurseries that she can work hours a day outside the home, is the one who is really limiting her sympathies and limiting her feminine genius.

Nor is the opportunity or activity of the man, or of the unmarried, independent woman, really unlimited. "Man's male function," it has been said, "is to be the bread winner and supporter of his family. And for want of opportunities, or pressed by economic necessity, he often betakes himself to work that is uncongenial and killing to his individuality."

As for the independent woman wage earner, she is often even more limited in what she would like to do by the need of self-support. There is a sameness in her work, just as there is a sameness in the duties of the housewife, or in the average man's office grind. Many a time this same independent young woman makes the best wife and mother when she does marry. Her marriage, coming later, in fuller maturity and after some years of independent experience, will well the advantages and the disadvantages of the independent life, and makes her choice more deliberately, with eyes more fully open to the merits of both situations.

DORIS BLAKE ANSWERS

Too Young for Late Hours.
"Dear Miss Blake: I am a girl 15 and have been causing lots of trouble at home during the last few months. My father objects to my coming home later than 11 o'clock. When I get out when attending a party, which is seldom, I must be home at 11:30 at the latest. Kindly advise me whether a girl of my age and who works all day should be kept so strictly. Is it right for a girl to meet a fellow on the corner or have him call at my home? My father objects to this also."

The proper place for the girl to see the young man is in her home, and if your father feels you are still too young to have the boy call better wait until you have approval. It won't hurt you to feel that a girl of your age should be home not later than 10 o'clock, or on a party night, 11:30, particularly when you are working all day. You need plenty of rest and sleep, dear.

Service Star Luncheon.
The board of the Service Star Legion will give a luncheon at the Arts club at 12:30 o'clock today for Mrs. Julia R. Austrian and Miss Della A. Selt of the Drake.

NATIONS' LEAGUE CALLED OBSTACLE TO WORLD ACTION

BY SCRUTATOR.

Strife and failure that have marked so many of the league of nations' efforts to handle such matters as the opium traffic and other essentially non-political international concerns raise the question whether that political organization is not making international cooperation more difficult than formerly.

Everybody knows how the settlement of Chicago traction problems and the development of urban transport has been thwarted by political associations.

The league of nations, constantly engaged in negotiations of matters of international politics, must politicize everything it touches.

Questions which by themselves could be settled on business lines become factors in political controversies before the league; they afford opportunities for political trading. A proposal of universal advantage may be held up by some nation which wishes to use its obstructive rights as an ace in the hole in some other matter.

The naive assumption by so many leaguists that they have a monopoly of internationalism and that internationalism was invented with the political league is one of the interesting psychoses of our era.

International cooperation on nonpoli-tical objectives was growing before the league was thought of, and seems not to have been advanced by its advent. The international postal arrangements, international agreements suppressing the slave trade, international cooperation to save the fur-bearing seal, and many of similar things were arranged by non-political conferences of nonpolitical experts, unhampered by political conditions and the congenial ineptitude of the diplomatic and political classes to deal directly and in the modern spirit.

Big matters of international concern, as to which there can be no question of any nation having any ultimate particular interest opposed to the others, must soon be adjusted. The course as to these questions is so plain that they could be quickly settled by gatherings of business men or scientists. But, thrown into the league game, it is hard to tell what will happen to them.

Among the foremost issues will be the use of the ether in international radio. Threatened destruction of the fish and other marine life by oil waste from ships is a question of interest to every creature on the globe. A biological catastrophe of which science has no means of predicting the final consequences might occur.

Increasing production of free hydrogen in industries must be controlled. There is reason to believe that this gas in free form escapes from the earth's gravitation and is lost forever if it is not completely recombined into compounds in any industrial process in which it is employed. Hydrogen is the condition of all life, as much as carbon or oxygen, and there is not any unlimited supply or any known method of transmitting it from other elements.

There are only a few of the bigger subjects—there are dozens of others, such as the preservation of the valuable whale species from extinction, protection of internationally migratory animals and birds, further international cooperation in the warfare of man against his insect foes.

DROP IN RENTS IS REPORTED IN N. CENT. STATES

Rents for living quarters went up in 17 per cent of the cities in the country, down in 18 per cent, and remained stationary in all others since last June, according to a semi-annual survey of the National Association of Real Estate Boards made public last night.

Business rents in the same period increased in 47 per cent of 97 cities and went down in only 8 per cent. The apparent tendency toward higher residential rents, the report states, may be in part seasonal, increases usually being noticed at the approach of winter. Improvement of the general business situation has undoubtedly brought about higher business rents.

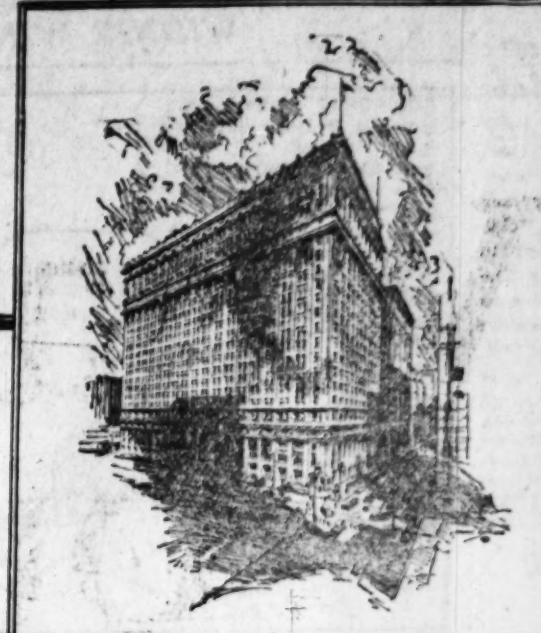

Summarizing the situation, the report says: "Apparently the larger cities are catching up most quickly with their building needs."

"Extension" Manager Goes Into Advertising Work

F. W. Harvey Jr., for the last nine years general manager of Extension Magazine, the largest Catholic monthly in the United States, has become associated with the McJunkin Advertising company, 6 South Wabash avenue, as one of its vice presidents.

Mr. Harvey is a native Chicagoan, as is his father, who is still actively engaged in business here. The son's advertising experience, which dates back to 1908, has covered a wide field of activity both in newspaper, magazine and agency work. He is past president of the Catholic Press association of the United States and Canada for two terms.

The Ecclesiastical Merchants Guild of the Middle West will give a testimonial farewell dinner for Mr. Harvey on Tuesday evening at the Hotel Sherman.

Ten-Thirty Year

Federal Land Bank 4½% Bonds

Dated January 1, 1925

Not redeemable before January 1, 1935

Due January 1, 1955

Interest payable January 1 and July 1 at any Federal Land Bank or Federal Reserve Bank. Principal payable at the Bank of Issue. Coupon and registered bonds (interchangeable) in denominations of $10,000, $5,000, $1,000, $500, $100 and $40. Redeemable at 100% and interest at any time on or after January 1, 1935.

The Supreme Court of the United States has upheld the constitutionality of the Act creating the Banks and exempting these Bonds from Federal, State, municipal and local taxation.

Operation: In six and one-half years of active operation the 12 Federal Land Banks have been built up until on November 30, 1924, their Capital was $49,089,180; Reserve, $5,734,400; Undivided Profits, $4,744,406; and Total Assets, $987,082,135. Every bank shows a surplus earned from its operations.

Acceptable by Treasury: These Bonds are acceptable by the United States Treasury as security for Government deposits including Postal Savings Funds.

Legal for Trust Funds: The Federal Farm Loan Act provides that the Bonds shall be lawful investments for all fiduciary and trust funds under the jurisdiction of the United States Government. They are eligible under the laws of many of the States for investment of all public and private funds and have been held eligible for investment by savings banks in 37 States.

The holdings of the United States Government in the capital stock of the Federal Land Banks have been reduced from $9,000,000, at the time of the inauguration of the System, to about $1,700,000, as of November 30, 1924. During the same period, the Farm Loan associations acquired approximately $47,000,000 capital stock, part of the proceeds of which was used to retire stock owned by the Government as required by the Farm Loan Act. The United States Treasury has purchased and now holds over $100,000,000 Federal Land Bank Bonds. While these Bonds are not Government obligations, and are not guaranteed by the Government, they are the secured obligations of Banks operating under Federal charter with Governmental supervision, on whose boards of direction the Government is represented.

At the request of the Federal Farm Loan Board in co-operation with and on behalf of the Federal Land Banks, we offer these Bonds at:

Price 101½% and Interest, to yield over 4.30% to the redeemable date (1935) and 4½% thereafter to redemption or maturity

What a space buyer ought to know — about The Chicago Tribune and its territory

1. The City—

- (a) In Chicago and its immediate suburbs there are more people than in any one of the thirty-six states shown in black on the map opposite.
- (b) In this tremendous market The Chicago Tribune (with one-third more local circulation than the next paper) reaches practically 100% of the English reading families.

2. The Territory—

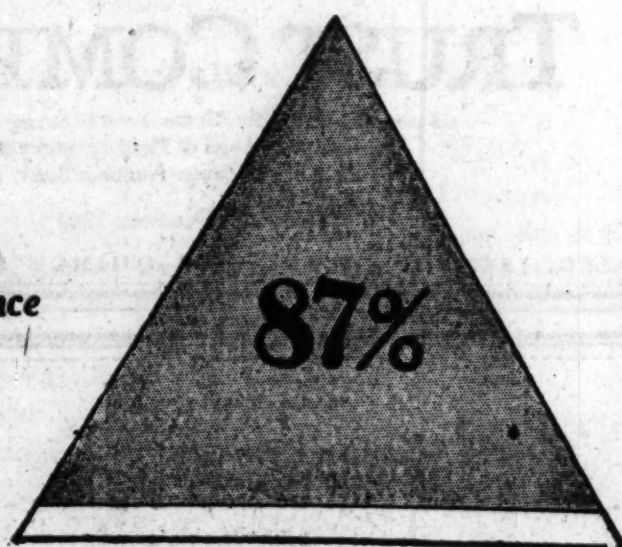

- (a) The Chicago Territory (Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Michigan and Wisconsin) with one-eleventh of the area of the United States, has one-sixth of the population, who possess one-fifth of the national wealth. Business in The Chicago Territory is now good and getting better all the time. New records for volume of sales will be established in 1925.
- (b) In each of 1063 towns and cities of these five states (outside of Chicago) The Chicago Tribune reaches from one-fifth to four-fifths of the families. Of these towns 471 are shown by dots on the map opposite.

3. Dealer Influence—

- (a) In Chicago 80% to 85% of the retailers read The Tribune. Outside the city, in a zone 400 miles in diameter, from 60% to 85% of the retailers read The Tribune.
- (b) Not only do they read it but from 63% to 87% of them state that Chicago Tribune advertising is a selling influence and moves goods from their shelves.

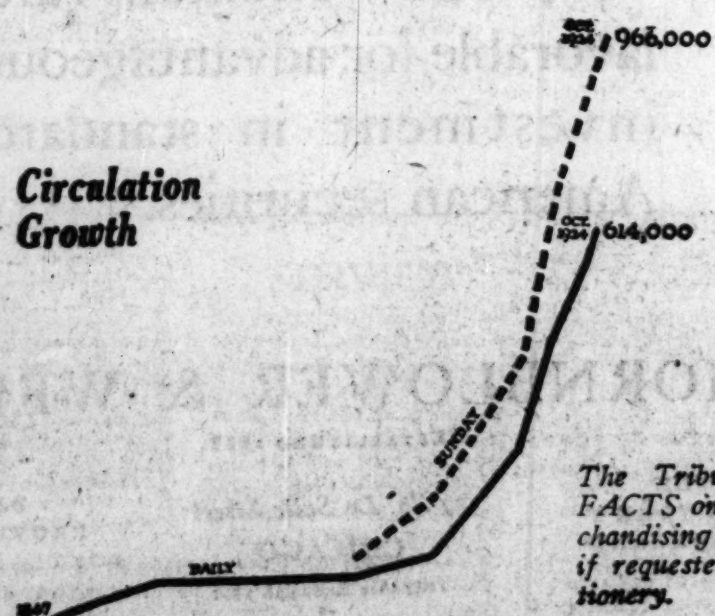

Dealer Influence

4. Cost—

- (a) Chicago Tribune advertising space is economical because circulation increases make each contract a great bargain before it expires. The chart at the left shows the rate at which the paper has grown.
- (b) Compared with other media Chicago Tribune space is positively cheap. Based on circulation and rates of October, 1924, National advertisers can buy space in The Tribune on week days for $1.46 per milline and on Sundays for $1.30 per milline. How much space are you buying at rates as low as these, Mr. Space Buyer?

NEW ISSUE OF 3 1/2% UPSETS BRITISH BOND MARKETS

BY LORIMER HAMMOND.

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]
LONDON, Jan. 3.—Winston Churchill, the new chancellor of the exchequer, tossed quite a bomb into the market in the middle of this week when he announced a new issue of 3 1/2 per cent conversion loans at 7 1/2, carrying a full six months' interest, payable on April 1. The whole gilt edged department naturally was taken by surprise by this totally unexpected move, but it is already felt in most reliable quarters that the government has moved wisely in choosing a direct method of financing its indebtedness. Cautious confidence stamps the attitude of the shrewdest British business minds towards the next few months' prospects. While the tangle of inter-allied debts continues to absorb the attention of the governments here, on the continent, and across the Atlantic, it is felt by both industrial and trading operatives that late winter and spring promises a good volume of marketing.

Railroads Unsteady.

The question of wages and working hours is seriously holding off the British railroads. Labor on the roads and in the coal mines threatens to press its demands and, while a compromise is believed certain to come, for the present the rail conditions are badly wrought. The increased value of sterling on the New York exchange in the week past tended to brighten the agreement between the Anglo-Persian and Shell companies, with Turkish petroleum filtering through the oil interests just as the market closed, bringing the belief that the Irak concessions are about to start again in eastern affairs. This report had a considerable effect on Shell and Royal Dutch shares, sending them up a number of points.

Atmospheric conditions surrounding wireless houses cleared perceptibly after the cessation of recent trading, Marconi ordinary snapping into line with a fine advance. Radio common also got away at a faster pace, while Eastern Telegraph also added half a point.

Under the stimulus of dividend and bonus announcements Liebig took a sharp spurt upward, landing among the most active commodities in the week-end trading. Foreign rails, which had been stagnant for some time, started in motion again, Buenos Aires Western and Buenos Aires Pacific both making marked progress. United Havana advanced and Leopoldini and Sao Paulo distinguished themselves among Brazilians.

BANKS REVEAL VAST GROWTH IN THE SAVINGS

BY O. A. MATHER.

Chicago banks benefited by improved conditions in business and industry last year. Steady employment at good wages enabled them to live well, but at the same time they practiced thrift and laid by a substantial "nest egg" for the future.

More than $22,000,000 was added to the savings accounts in Chicago banks despite the fact that large amounts were invested in homes and property. In fact, 1924 brought an increase in combined commercial and savings deposits of nearly $214,000,000.

These conditions are shown in reports of condition as of Dec. 31, made by both national and state banks Saturday in response to calls for statements issued by the controller of the currency and the Illinois state auditor.

Rig Growth in Deposits.

Between Dec. 31, 1923, and Dec. 31, 1924, the consolidated statement for all Chicago banks shows loans and discounts increased $135,353,000, total deposits increased $209,923,000, cash resources increased $23,327,000, and savings deposits increased $23,327,000.

For the national banks loans and discounts declined $4,794,000, total deposits increased $15,373,000, cash resources declined $788,000, and savings deposits declined $1,742,000. For the state banks loans and discounts increased $144,167,000, total deposits increased $194,550,000, cash resources increased $24,123,000, and savings deposits increased $25,069,000. The slight decline in deposits of the national banks resulted primarily from a reduction in the interest rate paid on balances of country banks.

Trade Slightly Slower.

Seasonal slackening in trade after the peak of the autumn movement is shown in a comparison of the year-end figures with those for Oct. 10, the date of the last previous call for statements. The year-end consolidated report for all Chicago banks shows loans declined $144,167,000, while total deposits increased $24,123,000, cash resources increased $24,123,000, and savings deposits increased $25,069,000.

The decline in loans was attributable entirely to the national banks which showed a decrease of $10,567,000, whereas the state banks had a gain of $4,230,000. National bank deposits declined $12,130,000, but those of the state banks increased $15,529,000.

Resources Are Greater.

Savings deposits in the national banks declined $1,742,000, but those in the state banks increased $25,069,000. But both the national and the state banks strengthened their financial condition, inasmuch as cash resources of the national banks and of the state banks increased $24,123,000 and $25,069,000, respectively.

Of course, in comparing the year-end figures of 1923 and 1924 one important change in the Chicago banking field must be considered. This was the merger of the Corn Exchange National into the Illinois Merchants group. But for this shift the national banks would make an even better showing.

1924 Tobacco Crop Drops Off 272,000,000 Pounds

Washington, D. C., Jan. 4.—Production of all types of tobacco grown in the United States was smaller in 1924 than in 1923, the department of agriculture reported today, the total crop being 1,243,000,000 pounds, compared with 1,515,000,000 pounds in 1923. The cigar types showed a drop of 24,000,000 pounds, and the types used for chewing, smoking, snuff, and export were reduced 248,000,000 pounds.

DRY GOODS AND GARMENT NEWS

(Copyright: 1925: Fairchild News Service.) NEW YORK.—Week-end trading in dry goods was spotty, some good sized orders being placed by big houses, but the business was not at all general. The trade is expecting an active period now that all the inventories are out of the way. The 64x90, 5.35 yards to the pound, sold at 94c and the 68x74, 4.75 yards to the pound, was 104c. Twelve cents was the price for 72x78, 5.25 yards to the pound, on contracts, and 124c for spots and nearbys. The 80 square, 4.00 yards to the pound, brought 134c for contracts and 134c for spots.

NEW YORK.—The Fairchild cotton goods average price and index number for the week ended Jan. 3 showed a further slight gain and is now 15.075, compared with 15.070 for the week ended Dec. 27. The index number is now back to where it was the latter part of November, just before the early December slump. The average price of raw cotton for the week was 24.54, compared with 24.23 for the preceding week.

PHILADELPHIA.—Cotton yarn traders didn't do any week-end business to speak of and prices are all unchanged at the same levels which obtained practically all of last week. It was thought spinning might make some advances, but so far they have evidently held off, due to the lack of consumer interest.

BOOTHING.—Some interest was shown in wool over the week-end by manufacturers who were in the market for small lots, evidently to fill in shipments needed for immediate orders. Prices paid were all on the same high level, and although several of the buyers were looking for distress goods, none of them could be found. All wool factors are awaiting the opening of the foreign selling season in Australia tomorrow.

NEW YORK.—A fair inquiry for raw silk is still noted here, and prices are holding firm. There is no news from the primary centers at Yokohama and Canton, as they are both closed for the holidays. Sales here are on the basis of $0.75 to $0.85 for double extra A and $0.87 1/2 to $0.97 1/2 for best No. 1. New style Canons were $0.85 to $0.95 for 14-16s, and $0.60 to $0.70 for 20-22s.

Increase Is Shown in Customs Duties Here

Slight increase in customs duties collected at the port of Chicago during 1924 over 1923 is shown in the annual report announced yesterday. Total collections in 1923 were $15,529,539 and last year they were $18,538,948.

Chicago ranks second of all American ports in collections on miscellaneous merchandise, while New York is first, the report shows.

Largest import shipment ever brought into the United States was one during the year by the Commonwealth Edison company, the duty being $214,501.
